EXEMPTION

Application No. A49/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Cooroonya Domestic Violence Services Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise and employ women only in its service in the north-east Hume region of Victoria (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- Cooroonya Domestic Violence Incorporated is a non-profit, gender specific specialist family violence agency which exists to provide a crisis response to women and children experiencing family violence. The Cooroonya Domestic Violence Incorporated is established to empower women and children to regain control and independence in their lives; and to provide innovative, accountable and confidential services for them.

- It is the Cooroonya Domestic Violence Incorporated experience that women experiencing domestic/family violence including crisis needs expect the service response to come from female workers. Such a service response is also part of an established tradition of women's services to and by women.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 March 2012.

EXEMPTION

Application No. A48/2009

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application, pursuant to section 83 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995, by Cooroonya Domestic Violence Services Inc. The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to provide Cooroonya's specific service delivery role to women and children only in the north-eastern Hume region of Victoria (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material submitted in support of the application the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- Cooroonya Domestic Violence Incorporated is a non-profit, gender specific specialist family violence agency which exists to provide a crisis response to women and children experiencing family violence. Cooroonya Domestic Violence Incorporated is established to empower women and children to regain control and independence in their lives; and to provide innovative, accountable and confidential services.

- The service responds to the immediate safety needs of women and children and furthermore provides a ready access to safe, and secure short term accommodation and support for women and children exposed to family violence.
- The service also provides for intensive interventions for its clients including regular group sessions, individual counselling and personal development work best suited to their healing needs based on assessment. The service supports ongoing services to the clients to enable them to re-establish themselves within the community.
- A fundamental feature of family violence recognised by Parliament includes the acknowledgment of the gendered nature of family violence. Individual women, women's groups and organisations have challenged long held assumptions about domestic/family violence and have a long term commitment to the empowerment of women and children and to the elimination of all forms of violence against women and children.
- The impact of domestic/family violence on women and children is profound. It has immediate and long term consequences for the economic, psychological, physical, emotional, social and well being of women and children. Yet historically domestic and family violence has not always been treated as serious or criminal behaviour. Cooroonya Domestic Violence Incorporated acknowledges this context and works to support women and children in their immediate crisis situation including outreach, advocacy and referral.
- Given the acknowledged immediate and long term effects of domestic/family violence, women and children need and require a safe environment to address their issues. A safe environment includes one in which women feel listened to, believed and not judged; and one in which the gendered nature of domestic/family violence informs the service response.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption to the applicant from the operation of sections 13, 14, 100 and 195 of the Equal Opportunity Act 1995 to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 1 March 2012.
