- (2) In this clause:

$\text{EMP}R_0$  is the remuneration for the employer for the policy period;

$N$  is the number of days in the current policy period on which a WorkCover insurance policy was in force and/or is likely to be in force in respect of any workplace of the employer.

- (2) An employer's total annualised remuneration is:

$N^1$  means the number of days during the preceding policy period on which a WorkCover insurance policy was in force in respect of any workplace of the employer or any related employer, or any predecessor workplace mentioned in paragraph (b) of the definition of  $R^1$ , but if  $N^1$  equals 0 (zero) it is deemed to be 1.

9 *Employer Performance Rating

EXPLANATORY NOTE:

The formulae set out in this clause are used to measure the claims history of employers. This is done by comparing the actual performance of a given employer with the average performance of the industries in which that employer has been operating during the relevant period.

This analysis is done by looking back over the three previous years.

The calculation takes account of the size of an employer so that the claims history (good or bad) of a very large employer will have more of an impact than that of a small employer.

An employer performance rating of 1 would be average. Anything over 1 represents a worse than average performance and anything less than 1 represents a performance that is better than average.

*WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013*PART 3 - continuedEmployer Performance Rating Calculation

- (1) Subject to subclause (4), the employer performance rating for an employer is:
- $$1 + \text{size adjustment factor} \times (\text{performance index} - 1) \times (T \div 1095)$$ where T is the number of days during the period commencing on 1 January 2009 and ending on 31 December 2011 on which a WorkCover insurance policy was in force in respect of the employer, a predecessor employer or a related employer.

Size Adjustment Factor

- (2) An employer's size adjustment factor is:
- $$X^T \div (X^T + 600,000)$$

where  $X^T$  is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the formula  $IR \times R_{COV}$  to each experience period workplace of the employer for each relevant period of coverage.

Performance Index

- (3) An employer's performance index is:  $ECCR \div IACCR$

where:

ECCR is the employer's claims cost rate, which is:  $AC \div AR$ ;

IACCR is the employer's industry average claims cost rate, which is:  $AP \div AR$ ;

AC is:  $C - V$

where:

C is the sum of the total cost of claims for the claims reporting period in respect of:

- (a) each workplace which is an experience period workplace in relation to the employer; and
- (b) each workplace (other than an experience period workplace or an unrelated predecessor workplace) which was a workplace of the employer or any related employer prior to 1 July 2009;

V in relation to the employer, is the sum of any recoveries made by the Authority during the preceding triennium in relation to claims against the employer and any related employer (other than claims made in relation to an unrelated predecessor workplace and excluded claims) received by the Authority or an authorised agent between 1 July 1993 and 31 December 2008;

AP is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the formula  $ICCR \times R_{COV}$  to each experience period workplace of the employer for each relevant period of coverage;

AR is the sum of  $R_{COV}$  for each experience period workplace of the employer for each relevant period of coverage.

Deemed Employer Performance Rating

- (4) The employer performance rating for an employer shall be deemed to be 1 where:
- (a) the employer is a small employer; or
  - (b) the employer's WorkCover insurance policy commenced on or after 1 July 2011 and:

WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013

  - (A) was a workplace before 1 July 2011; and
  - (B) is a predecessor workplace in relation to any of the employer's workplaces; or
- (c) it is not otherwise possible to calculate an employer performance rating.

Definitions

- (5) In this clause:

experience period workplace, in relation to an employer, means and includes:

- (a) a current workplace of the employer or any related employer which was a workplace of that employer at any time during the preceding triennium;
- (b) any workplace (other than a workplace that has been included under paragraph (a) of this definition) that was a workplace of the employer or any related employer at any time during the preceding triennium; and
- (c) any workplace (other than a workplace that has been included under paragraph (a) or (b) above) which was a workplace of another employer at any time during the preceding triennium and which is a predecessor workplace in relation to:
  - (i) a workplace referred to in (a) or (b) of this definition; or

- (b) in relation to a workplace referred to in paragraph (c) of the definition of experience period workplace, all periods of coverage at that workplace during the preceding triennium and preceding the date on which that workplace became a predecessor to a workplace referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) of the definition of experience period workplace.

10 Weighted Industry Rate

- (1) Subject to subclause (2), an employer's weighted industry rate is:  $X^1 \div A$

where:

X<sup>1</sup> is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each relevant workplace in respect of the last period of coverage at that workplace:

$$IR \times (R_{COV} \times 366) \div N_{COV}$$

A is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each relevant workplace in respect of the last period of coverage at that workplace:

$$(R_{COV} \times 366) \div N_{COV}$$

*WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013*PART 3 - continued

- (2) An employer's weighted industry rate is the employer's comparative rate where:
- the employer is a small employer; and
  - clause 10(2) of the 2011/2012 Premiums Order applied in relation to the calculation of the employer's premium in the preceding policy period; and
  - C for the employer has a value of 0 (zero) or less than 0 (zero); and
  - the employer's comparative rate is less than  $X^1 \div A$ .
- (3) In this clause:
- C has the meaning given in clause 9(3);
- IR is the industry rate for that workplace for that period of coverage;
- $N_{cov}$  is the number of days in the last period of coverage at the workplace;
- $R_{cov}$  is the remuneration for the last period of coverage at the workplace;
- relevant workplace means a workplace which was a workplace of an employer during the preceding policy period and which is a current risk workplace of the employer or any related employer for the purposes of this Order.

11 Comparative Rate*EXPLANATORY NOTE:

This clause prescribes how the comparative rate will be calculated. The comparative rate is used to limit increases in premium rates for employers from year to year, generally where there has not been any change to the classification at the workplace of the employer.

The calculation takes all of the current risk workplaces and imputed workplaces that an employer has on 1 July 2012 and works out a notional premium for those workplaces in the previous year (a dollar figure). The rate is calculated by dividing the amount of calculated premium for all relevant periods of coverage at those workplaces by the amount of remuneration for those periods of coverage. The result of that calculation is the comparative rate.

The comparative rate is then used to cap the premium rate charged across all of the current risk workplaces and all imputed workplaces of the employer in the WorkCover premium calculation.

It should be noted that the premium rate charged for new risk coverages is not capped and the comparative rate has no bearing upon the calculation of premiums for new risk workplaces.

Comparative Rate Calculation

- (1) The comparative rate for an employer is:

$$CP_{SUM} \div R_{SUM}$$

Calculated Premium

- (2) Calculated premium is calculated in accordance with this subclause.

Comparative Current Risk Period of Coverage

- (a) If a period of comparative coverage was a current risk period of coverage under the 2011/2012 Premiums Order, the calculated premium for the period of comparative coverage is:

$$R_{cov} \times EPR^1 \times IR_1 \times IMCF$$

WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013

where:

IMCF subject to subclause (4) is the industry mix and capping factor for the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during the period of coverage, calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$(AP^{R1} \times CR R_1) \div U$$

U is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each period of coverage used in the calculation of  $CR R_1$ :

$$R_{COV} \times EPR^1 \times IR_1$$

Comparative New Risk Period of Coverage

(b) If a period of comparative coverage was a new risk period of coverage under the 2011/2012 Premiums Order and was not a period of coverage at an imputed workplace, the calculated premium for the period of comparative coverage is:

$$R_{COV} \times EPR^1 \times IR_1$$

Section 26A of the WorkCover Insurance Act provides for the Authority to make a determination of premium where a premium avoidance scheme has been carried out and for the payment of a default penalty in relation to such a scheme. This clause defines certain terms used in section 26A.

- (1) For the purposes of section 26A of the WorkCover Insurance Act, premium avoidance scheme means a scheme in respect of which it would be concluded that the person, or one or more of the persons, who entered/enters into or carried/carries out the scheme (or any part of the scheme) did/does so for the purpose (the relevant purpose) of enabling the relevant employer to obtain a premium benefit in connection with the scheme, or of enabling the relevant employer and another employer or other employers each to obtain a premium benefit in connection with the scheme (whether or not that person who entered into or carried out the scheme or any part of the scheme is the relevant employer or is the other employer or one of the other employers).

- (3) For the purposes of subclause (1):
  - (a) the relevant purpose need not be the only or dominant purpose of the conduct, as long as it is a substantial purpose;

WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013

Sch. 1

SCHEDULE 1 - *continued7 Industry Classification

- (1) The industry classification of a workplace is the WorkCover industry classification in schedule 4 to which the predominant activity at that workplace corresponds or most closely corresponds.
- (2) For the purposes of determining the industry classification in accordance with sub-item (1):
  - (a) regard must be had to the introduction to, and all relevant elements of, schedule 4;
  - (b) consideration must be given to the industrial characteristics of the predominant activity without regard to the risk of injury associated with the predominant activity or with any of the occupations of or functions performed by workers engaged in operations at the workplace; and
  - (c) the predominant activity at a workplace does not correspond or most closely correspond to a WorkCover industry classification if workplaces predominantly engaged in that activity are expressly excluded from that classification in any of the elements of schedule 4.

8 Industry Rate / Industry Claims Cost Rate

- (1) Subject to sub-item (6), the industry rates and the industry claims cost rates for the current policy period for each industry classification are those rates determined by the Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette during the current policy period.
- (2) Subject to sub-items (3), (4) and (5), the industry rate or the industry claims cost rate (as the case may be) for a workplace for a period of coverage is the rate for the current policy period that corresponds to the industry classification of that workplace for that period of coverage.
- (3) Where:
  - (a) the 2011/2012 industry classification for a workplace of an employer (the relevant workplace) is different from the industry classification for the relevant workplace under this Premiums Order; and
  - (b) the Authority is satisfied that the predominant activity carried on at the relevant workplace during the last period of coverage was the same as the predominant activity carried on at the relevant workplace on 1 July 2012; and
  - (c) application of this sub-item would result in a lower employer performance rating for that employer than the employer performance rating calculated in accordance with sub-item (2),the industry rate or the industry claims cost rate (as the case may be) for the relevant workplace for a relevant period of coverage is the rate for the current policy period for the industry classification that corresponds to the 2011/2012 industry classification.
- (3A) Item 8(3) does not apply where the 2011/2012 industry classification for the relevant workplace was S95200 and the industry classification of the workplace on 1 July 2012 is either S95201 or S95202.
- (4) The industry rate or the industry claims cost rate (as the case may be) for a workplace for a period of coverage is:
  - (a) the rate for the current policy period for the industry classification that most closely corresponds to the industry classification that was used to calculate the employer's WorkCover premium for the 2009/2010 policy period if item 8(3) of schedule 1 of the 2009/2010 Premiums Order was applied in relation to the workplace; or

- (b) the rate for the current policy period for the industry classification that most closely corresponds to the industry classification that was used to calculate the employer's WorkCover premium for the 2010/2011 policy period if item 8(3) of schedule 1 of the 2010/2011 Premiums Order was applied in relation to the workplace; or
  - (c) the rate for the current policy period for the industry classification that most closely corresponds to the industry classification that was used to calculate the employer's WorkCover premium for the 2011/2012 policy period if item 8(3) of schedule 1 of the 2011/2012 Premiums Order was applied in relation to the workplace.
- (5) If, in the opinion of the Authority, an employer has failed to provide sufficient information to enable the Authority to determine the industry classification and/or the remuneration for a period of coverage at a workplace, the industry rate shall be deemed to be the default industry rate and the industry claims cost rate shall be deemed to be the default industry claims cost rate.
  - (6) If the WorkCover premium is calculated before the publication date and it is not otherwise possible to calculate the premium payable by the employer then any reference to an industry rate or an industry claims cost rate in the current policy period shall, until the publication date, be construed as a reference to rates as determined by the Authority itself.
  - (7) For the avoidance of doubt, the premium payable by an employer must be recalculated after the publication date if it was calculated before that date.

legal services has the same meaning as in section 1.2.1 of the Legal Profession Act 2004;negligent third party TAC claim means a TAC claim made in relation to an injury or death, where the Authority has determined that the injury or death was caused under circumstances creating in a person, other than the employer or any related employer or a person for whose acts or omissions the employer is or may be vicariously liable, a legal liability to pay damages in respect of the injury or death;total cost of claims, in relation to a workplace of an employer, means the total of the costs of all individual claims calculated in accordance with item 1, other than excluded claims, received by the Authority during the claims reporting period in respect of workers engaged in operations at that workplace, being workers employed by the employer.

SCHEDULE 4 WORKCOVER INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION

GENERAL INTRODUCTION

Explanatory Provisions

1. The General Introduction to Schedule 4 provides essential information, definitions and instructions that apply across more than one division or across all divisions of Schedule 4. These must be considered as part of the process under this schedule for allocating workplaces to specific WorkCover industry classifications (abbreviated to “classes” within this schedule), based on the workplace’s predominant activity.
  2. In addition, each division has an introduction that provides essential information about the nature of activities included within that division. All definitions and instructions in the introductions must be considered as part of the process for allocating workplaces to specific classes within Schedule 4, based on the predominant activity of the workplace.
  3. In accordance with item 7 of Schedule 1, the industry classification to which a workplace is classified for an employer is the WorkCover industry classification in this schedule to which the predominant activity at that workplace corresponds or most closely corresponds.
  4. Classes, which are denoted by a single letter and a five digit numeric code, are organised within broad divisions (each identified by a single letter), subdivisions (each identified by a two digit code) and groups (each identified by a three digit code). The classes are based on the Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification 2006 (ANZSIC) developed by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) in collaboration with Statistics New Zealand and accessible via the ABS website at www.abs.gov.au.
  5. The classification of a workplace to a class is a two step process. The first step is to determine the predominant activity at the workplace in accordance with item 3 of Schedule 1. It is only after that step has been completed that schedule 4 is considered, in step two. Step two is to identify the class in Schedule 4 to which the predominant activity corresponds or most closely corresponds.
  6. For this purpose, regard must be had to all elements of this schedule, i.e. the General Introduction, headings, the general provisions, introductions to divisions, industry descriptions, exclusions/references and the listed activities.
  7. In addition to general provisions relating to how to classify a workplace, this part of Schedule 4 also contains general provisions in relation to the following matters:
    - Definitions and Abbreviations
    - Beneficiation of Minerals
    - Business Formation
    - Industry Support Services
    - Installation
    - Manufacturers’ Sales
    - Rental, Hiring and Leasing
    - Repair and Maintenance
    - Vertically Integrated Workplaces
- Operative provisions and non-operative material*
8. This Schedule contains both operative provisions and non-operative material.
    - (a) The operative provisions are all provisions other than the non-operative material.
    - (b) The non-operative material is included to assist in understanding the way in which the Schedule is to be applied and consists of:

- (i) the Explanatory Provisions (identified by the heading Explanatory Provisions);
- (ii) provisions that identify a particular classification issue (identified by the heading Issue); and
- (iii) examples (identified by the heading Example).

Operative ProvisionsDefinitions and Abbreviations*

9. In this Schedule, unless the contrary intention appears:

arm's length entity, in relation to an employer whose workplace is to be classified, means a person that:

- (i) is not a member of the same group as the employer; or
- (ii) would not have a relationship of control with the employer within the meaning of item 6(6) of Schedule 1.

customer, in relation to an employer whose workplace is to be classified, means only a customer that is an arm's length entity in relation to that employer;

group, in relation to an employer means a group within the meaning of section 66 of the Accident Compensation (WorkCover Insurance) Act 1993;

member, in relation to an employer group means an employer who is a member of a group within the meaning of section 66 of the Accident Compensation (WorkCover Insurance) Act 1993;

n.e.c. means not elsewhere classified;

predominant industry, in relation to more than one workplace of the employer or group, means the predominant activity of the workplaces treated as a single workplace.

WorkCover industry classification, is abbreviated to class in this schedule.

10. In this Schedule, where the word "include", "includes" or "including" appears, the matters to which that word refers are intended to be non-exhaustive.

Effect of exclusion references

11. The predominant activity at a workplace cannot correspond or most closely correspond to a class if workplaces predominantly engaged in that activity are expressly excluded from that class.

Determining when an activity most closely corresponds to a class

12. Even if not expressly excluded from a class, a predominant activity that appears to correspond to a particular class may most closely correspond to another class.

Example

Where an employer's predominant activity is growing vegetables undercover, this may appear to correspond to A01110 Nursery Production Undercover, which is defined to include growing plants undercover. However, growing vegetables undercover most closely corresponds to A01220 Growing Vegetables Undercover, which is specific to vegetable growing.

13. If a predominant activity does not appear to correspond to a class, it will be classified to the class with which it most closely corresponds.

WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013

SCHEDULE 4 - continuedExample

Where an employer's predominant activity is providing dog obedience training, there is no class to which this activity corresponds. However, providing dog obedience training most closely corresponds to S95390 Other Personal Services.

Listed activities within a class

14. (1) Where an activity has been listed under a class that activity cannot be treated as corresponding or most closely corresponding to a different class.
- (2) An activity can correspond or most closely correspond to a class even if it is not listed as an activity in that class (i.e. the listed activities in a class are examples only and are not exhaustive).

Classification Issue: Beneficiation of MineralsIssue*

15. Beneficiation is the process whereby mined material is reduced to particles that can be separated into mineral and waste, the former suitable for further processing or direct use. The operations that take place in beneficiation are primarily mechanical, such as grinding, washing and magnetic separation, and centrifugal separation. These activities are generally carried out at or near mine sites as an integral part of mining operations. In contrast, manufacturing operations primarily use chemical and electro-chemical processes, such as electrolysis and distillation to transform mined materials into new products. This raises the issue of the correct classification of a workplace predominantly engaged in beneficiation of minerals.

Rule

16. Workplaces predominantly engaged in beneficiating ores or other minerals are classified to the appropriate mining class.

Classification Issue: Business FormationIssue*

17. A large number of new businesses start up in any given period. Before commencing regular operations, some employers need to undertake significant capital and/or other business formation activities ("capital and business formation activities") such as seeking out potential clients, obtaining equipment and premises and purchasing or preparing software. In many instances, these employers may decide to undertake these activities themselves. This raises the issue of whether the relevant workplaces of these employers should be given the classification corresponding to the capital and business formation activity or the classification corresponding to the business predominant activity for which the capital and business formation activity is being undertaken.

Rule

18. A workplace at which capital and business formation activities are undertaken is classified according to the predominant activity of the operations that are ultimately conducted at the workplace, or, if such operations have not commenced, the operations that are intended to be conducted at the workplace, rather than to the class corresponding to the capital and business formation activity.

Example

For example, an employer starting a new manufacturing business may undertake the construction of a factory in preparation for the conduct of the business. In those circumstances the workplace will be classified to the appropriate class in Division C Manufacturing and not to a class in Division E Construction.

Sch. 4 WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013SCHEDULE 4 - continuedClassification Issue: InstallationIssue

19. Installation, that is the placement of a product into position for use, including erection, assembly and fixing, can be undertaken in conjunction with other activities (e.g. manufacture or sales) or in isolation. This raises the issue of whether the workplace that undertakes installation activities is to be classified to installation or to some other activity.

Rule

20. A workplace predominantly engaged in manufacturing or selling its products to other persons and that also installs the products it manufactures or sells at the customer's premises (where installation is ancillary to the predominant activity) is classified according to the predominant activity undertaken at the workplace, and not to an installation class.

Examples

- An employer selling hot water systems to members of the public may arrange for the installation of the hot water system in the purchaser's dwelling. If the predominant activity of the workplace is selling hot water systems then installation is an ancillary activity; and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Retail Trade.
  - An employer manufacturing elevators may also arrange for the installation of the elevator. If the predominant activity of the workplace is manufacturing elevators then installation is an ancillary activity; and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Manufacturing.
  - An employer manufacturing built-in furniture or joinery may arrange for the installation of the furniture or joinery. If the predominant activity of the workplace is manufacturing furniture or joinery then installation is an ancillary activity; and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Manufacturing.
  - An employer manufacturing commercial or industrial boilers may also arrange for the installation of the boilers. If the predominant activity of the workplace is manufacturing boilers then installation is an ancillary activity; and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Manufacturing.
21. A workplace that is predominantly engaged in installation of a product will be classified to the appropriate class corresponding to the installation activity.

Example

Table 1 gives examples of some of the different classes for workplaces predominantly engaged in installation activities.

Table 1 : Classification of workplaces predominantly engaged in installation activities

Classification Issue: Internal Management and Office AdministrationIssue*

22. Some workplaces engage in the provision of management, organisation or administrative support services to other workplaces of the same employer or group. These services may be corporate head office management services or may be lower level operational (e.g. day-to-day or regional or divisional) services. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

23. Workplaces that are predominantly engaged in the provision of operational (e.g. day-to-day or regional or divisional) services including:
- (a) management services; or

(b) organisational services; or

(c) administrative support services;

(as opposed to high level strategic management services) to other workplaces of the employer or other workplaces within the same group, whether they are in the same industry or different industries, are classified according to the predominant industry of the workplaces to which they provide these services.

24. Workplaces that are predominantly engaged in corporate head office management services (where such services are high level strategic management services provided in respect of the whole of the employer's or group's operations in Australia and the workplace is located in a physically separate building from other workplaces of the employer or group) are classified to class M69610 Corporate Head Office Management Services.

Example

A workplace that provides day-to-day management services (e.g. accounting, payroll and human resource services) to two other workplaces of the employer that are both predominantly engaged in footwear manufacturing will be classified to footwear manufacturing.

Classification Issue: Manufacturers' SalesIssue*

25. Workplaces predominantly engaged in manufacturing products also often sell those products, whether to consumers or other businesses. This raises the issue of whether such workplaces are classified to Division C Manufacturing or to either Division F Wholesale Trade or Division G Retail Trade.

Rule

26. Workplaces that are predominantly engaged in the manufacture of a product, and which also sell that product, are classified to manufacturing.

Example

A bakery that manufactures baked goods and sells those goods directly to the consumer from the same premises is classified to manufacturing.

27. A workplace that undertakes both the manufacture and the sale of its product and also sells products sourced from other arm's length entities (that is, a retail or wholesale activity) is classified according to its predominant activity, which may be manufacturing, retailing or wholesaling depending on the circumstances.

Classification Issue: Rental, hiring and leasingIssue*

28. Workplaces that are engaged in renting, hiring and leasing activities may do so with or without an operator of the equipment involved. Other workplaces are involved in leasing equipment to other entities under financial lease arrangements. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

29. Workplaces predominantly engaged in renting, hiring and leasing activities are classified to Division L Rental, Hiring and Real Estate Services, except where the following instructions apply:

WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013

- a) Finance leasing – workplaces predominantly engaged in the leasing of equipment to other arm's length entities under financial lease arrangements are classified to class K62300 Non-Depository Financing, as they are providing finance for the purchase of the equipment.
- b) Renting machinery with an operator – workplaces predominantly engaged in the renting, hiring or leasing machinery or vehicles with an operator are classified to the division that corresponds to the workplace where the machinery or vehicle is predominantly used. This is because the output being provided is a particular service, rather than just the provision of equipment for rent, hire or lease.

Examples

When construction machinery is hired in conjunction with the operator, the service being paid for is a construction service and not just for the use of equipment for a day.

Other examples of hire with operator include:

- hire of forestry machinery with operator (class A05100 Forestry Support Services);
  - hire of agricultural machinery (excluding forestry) with operator (class A05290 Other Agriculture and Fishing Support Services);
  - hire of mining machinery with operator (class B10900 Other Mining Support Services);
  - hire of earthmoving machinery with operator (class E32120 Site Preparation Services);
  - crane or construction machinery (except earthmoving) hire with operator (class E32920 Hire of Construction Machinery with Operator);
  - hire of motor vehicles with driver (class I46230 Taxi and Other Road Transport);
  - hire of boats with crew (class I48200 Water Passenger Transport); and
  - hire of aircraft with crew (class I49000 Air and Space Transport).
- c) Hire of linen or uniforms – workplaces predominantly engaged in the hire of linen or uniforms are classified to class S95310 Laundry and Dry-Cleaning Services, as the hire is an integral part of a broader laundry service.

Classification Issue: Repair and MaintenanceIssue*

30. Repair and maintenance activities are carried out on a wide range of items of plant, equipment, household appliances and personal goods and the classification of the workplace is based on the processes that are used. Repair and maintenance activities may involve a similar process as that involved in the creation of the product, or they may involve a clearly different and identifiable process from the process involved in creation of the product. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

31. Workplaces predominantly engaged in repair and maintenance activities involving different processes from those used for the creation of the original products are classified to the relevant classes in Division S Other Services.

Sch. 4 WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013SCHEDULE 4 - continuedExamples

- Workplaces engaged in automotive repair and maintenance are classified to classes S94110 Automotive Electrical Services, S94120 Automotive Body, Paint and Interior Repair or S94190 Other Automotive Repair and Maintenance;
  - Workplaces engaged in domestic appliance repair and maintenance are classified to class S94210 Domestic Appliance Repair and Maintenance;
  - Workplaces engaged in electronic and precision equipment repair and maintenance are classified to class S94220 Electronic (except Domestic Appliance) and Precision Equipment Repair and Maintenance;
  - Workplaces engaged in other machinery and equipment repair and maintenance are classified to class S94290 Other Machinery and Equipment Repair and Maintenance; and
  - Workplaces engaged in clothing, footwear and personal accessories repair are classified to class S94910 Clothing and Footwear Repair.
32. Workplaces predominantly engaged in repair and maintenance activities involving similar processes to those used for the creation of the original products are classified to the industry to which workplaces creating the new product are classified.

Examples

- Workplaces engaged in aircraft repair and maintenance are classified to class C23940 Aircraft Manufacturing and Repair Services;
  - Workplaces engaged in ship and boat repair and maintenance are classified to classes C23910 Shipbuilding and Repair Services and C23920 Boatbuilding and Repair Services;
  - Workplaces engaged in residential and non-residential buildings repair and maintenance are classified to classes E30110 House Construction, E30190 Other Residential Building Construction and E30200 Non-Residential Building Construction; and
  - Workplaces engaged in highway, road, street, bridge or airport runway repair and maintenance are classified to classes E31010 Road and Bridge Construction and E31090 Other Heavy and Civil Engineering Construction.
33. In instances where repair activities are carried out as an incidental activity by workplaces that are predominantly engaged in some other activity, the workplaces are classified according to their predominant activity.

Classification Issue: Vertically Integrated WorkplacesIssue*

34. Vertically integrated workplaces are a particular type of multi-activity workplace, where the different stages of production are carried out in succession by different parts of the same workplace. The output of one stage becomes the input to the next stage, with only the output of the final stage being sold on the market. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

35. Where, in a vertically integrated workplace, two or more activities of the employer contribute, or are likely to contribute, equally to the value of goods and/or services produced or provided by operations carried on at that workplace, then the workplace is classified to the activity which represents the last or final stage of production. This is where most of the value added is generally assumed to lie.

SCHEDULE 4 - continuedExamples

- A workplace may grow grapes and manufacture wine from the grapes at the same premises. If these activities are of equal value, so that neither activity can be said to be the predominant activity, then the workplace will be classified to C12140 Wine and Other Alcoholic Beverage Manufacturing. If the activities are not of equal value, so that one activity is the predominant activity, the workplace will be classified according to its predominant activity (either C12140 Wine and Other Alcoholic Beverage Manufacturing or A01310 Grape Growing).
- A workplace may farm chickens and process chicken meat at the same premises. If these activities are of equal value, so that neither activity can be said to be the predominant activity, then the workplace will be classified to C11120 Poultry Processing. If the activities are not of equal value, so that one activity is the predominant activity, the workplace will be classified according to its predominant activity (either C11120 Poultry Processing or A01710 Poultry Farming).

36. The process for classifying a workplace to a class is set out in the flow chart below.

*WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013*SCHEDULE 4 - *continuedDIVISION A: AGRICULTURE, FORESTRY AND FISHING*INTRODUCTION

1. The Agriculture, Forestry and Fishing Division includes workplaces predominantly engaged in growing crops, raising animals, growing and harvesting timber, and harvesting fish and other animals from farms or their natural habitats and workplaces predominantly engaged in providing support services to workplaces engaged in production activities.
2. This Division distinguishes between two kinds of activities: production activities and support services to production activities. Production activities include horticulture, livestock production, aquaculture, forestry and logging, and fishing, hunting and trapping.

Definitions

3. In this Division:

‘agistment’ means the activity where a workplace takes in all or some livestock owned or leased by an arm’s length entity in exchange for a fee for basic care and feed and does not include the activity where an entity owns land and leases that land to another entity (the lessee) to graze the lessee’s livestock;

‘agriculture’ means the growing and cultivation of horticultural and other crops (excluding forestry) and the controlled breeding, raising or farming of animals (excluding aquaculture);

‘aquaculture’ includes the controlled breeding, raising or farming of fish, molluscs and crustaceans;

‘fishing, hunting and trapping’ includes gathering or catching marine life such as fish or shellfish, or other animals, from their uncontrolled natural environments in water or on land;

‘forestry and logging’ includes growing, maintaining and harvesting forests, gathering forest products and felling, hewing or rough shaping of timber in the forest;

‘other grain growing’ means growing cereal or coarse grains or other cereal crops (except rice); and ‘under cover’ includes greenhouses, cold frames, cloth houses and lath houses.

Classification Issue: Mixed farming activities involving sheep, beef cattle and/or other grain growing*Issue

4. Some workplaces are engaged in mixed farming which involves undertaking two or more of the following activities: sheep farming, beef cattle farming or other grain growing (“mixed farming activities”). Such workplaces may also be engaged in undertaking other activities in addition to mixed farming (“non-mixed farming activities”). This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rules

5. Workplaces engaged in mixed farming activities must be classified according to one of the following rules, which constitute exceptions to items 3 and 7(1) of schedule 1.

6. Where an individual mixed farming activity:
- a) contributes more than four times each other mixed farming activity to the value of goods produced at a workplace; and
  - b) is the predominant activity when all the activities at the workplace (including non-mixed farming activities) are considered,
- the workplace is to be classified to one of the following classifications:
- A01410 – Sheep Farming (Specialised)
  - A01420 – Beef Cattle Farming (Specialised)
  - A01490 – Other Grain Growing
7. Where there is no individual mixed farming activity that contributes more than four times each other mixed farming activity to the value of goods produced at the workplace, the workplace is to be classified to:
- a) A01440 Sheep-Beef Cattle Farming where:
    - i. the workplace:
      - (A) is not engaged in other grain growing; or
      - (B) is engaged in other grain growing but the combined activity of sheep and beef cattle farming contributes more than four times the activity of other grain growing to the value of goods produced at the workplace; and
    - ii. the combined activity of sheep and beef cattle farming is the predominant activity when all the activities at the workplace (including non-mixed farming activities) are considered;
- or
- b) A01450 Grain-Sheep and/or Grain-Beef Cattle Farming where:
    - i. the workplace is engaged in other grain growing and one or both of sheep farming and beef cattle farming; and
    - ii. where the workplace is engaged in all three of other grain growing, sheep farming and beef cattle farming, the combined activity of sheep and beef cattle farming does not contribute more than four times other grain growing to the value of goods produced at the workplace; and
    - iii. the combined activity of other grain growing and one or both of sheep farming and beef cattle farming as applicable is the predominant activity when all activities at the workplace (including non-mixed farming activities) are considered.
8. Where both mixed farming activities and non-mixed farming activities are undertaken at a workplace and where neither item 6 nor item 7 applies, the workplace will be classified according to items 3 and 7(1) of Schedule 1, by reference to the predominant activity undertaken at the workplace.

Classification Rule: Nursery and floriculture production

9. Nursery and floriculture production and the growing of vegetables are classified according to whether or not they are grown outdoors or under cover.

*WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013*SCHEDULE 4 - *continuedClassification Rule: Agistment

10. Agistment services are included as activities in the appropriate classes of Subdivision 01 Agriculture, namely horse farming, sheep farming, beef cattle farming and dairy cattle farming. SCHEDULE 4 - *continuedDIVISION B: MINING*INTRODUCTION

1. The Mining Division includes workplaces that are predominantly engaged in either mining or mining support activities.
2. This Division distinguishes between two kinds of activities: mining and mining support activities.

Definitions

3. In this Division:

‘Beneficiation’ means the process whereby mined material is reduced to particles that can be separated into mineral and waste, the former suitable for further processing or direct use. The processes involved are primarily mechanical, such as grinding, washing and magnetic separation, and centrifugal separation and are generally carried out at or near mine sites as an integral part of mining operations;

‘mining’ means all operations necessary for the extraction of natural resources, including:

- a) underground or open cut mining;
- b) dredging;
- c) quarrying;
- d) well operations or evaporation pans;
- e) recovery from ore dumps or tailings;
- f) beneficiation;
- g) iron ore pelletising;
- h) briquetting; and
- i) other preparation work customarily performed at the mine site, or as a part of mining activity, including the removal of overburden;

‘mining support activities’ includes the provision of mining support services integral to the mining process on a contract or fee basis and exploration (except geophysical surveying);

‘natural resources’ includes:

- a) naturally occurring mineral solids, such as coal and ores;
- b) liquid minerals, such as crude petroleum; and
- c) gases, such as natural gas.

General Provisions

4. Workplaces in this Division are grouped and classified according to the natural resource mined or to be mined.
5. The products produced by workplaces classified to the Mining Division involve the minimum amount of processing to produce a marketable product.

Cross-references

6. Refer to the General Introduction for rules about beneficiation.

Exclusions

7. Workplaces excluded from this Division include workplaces predominantly engaged in

SCHEDULE 4 - *continuedDIVISION G: RETAIL TRADE*INTRODUCTION

1. Workplaces are classified to the Retail Trade Division where they predominantly buy finished goods and then onsell them (including on a commission basis), without significant transformation, to the general public. They take title to the goods and sell them to consumers.

Nature of workplaces engaged in retail trade

2. Workplaces included in the Retail Trade Division generally:
  - a) operate from premises located and designed to attract a high volume of walk-in customers;
  - b) have an extensive display of goods; and/or
  - c) use advertising designed to attract customers from the general public.
3. The display and advertising of goods by a workplace included in the Retail Trade Division may be physical or electronic. Physical display and advertising includes shops, printed catalogues, billboards and print advertisements. Electronic display and advertising includes catalogues, internet websites, television and radio advertisements and infomercials.

Classification Rule: Non-store retailers

4. Workplaces predominantly engaged in purchasing and onselling goods to the general public that use non-store retailing, including the internet, are included in the Retail Trade Division. Workplaces predominantly engaged in internet retailing (other than internet auctions) are classified to class G43100 Non-Store Retailing.

Classification Issue: Retailing meat, fish or poultry*Issue

5. Notwithstanding that workplaces predominantly engaged in selling meat, fish or poultry to the general public may sell products that involve significant transformation, they have the characteristics of a retailer. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

6. Workplaces predominantly engaged in selling fresh meat, fish or poultry to the general public are deemed to be predominantly engaged in buying finished goods and onselling them without significant transformation and are classified to this Division.

Example

A workplace that is a retail butcher, predominantly engaged in selling meat to the general public may cut meat carcasses into smaller cuts for sale and make hamburgers and sausages at the workplace. Notwithstanding that significant transformation of the goods occurs, the butcher is deemed to be engaged in buying and onselling goods without significant transformation and is classified to this Division, and not to manufacturing.

Classification Issue: Commission-based retailing

7. Some workplaces are predominantly engaged in commission-based retailing - that is, they sell goods to the general public on a commission basis. These workplaces have different activities from non-commission-based retail workplaces. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Exclusions

Sch. 4 *WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order (No. 20) 2012/2013*SCHEDULE 4 - *continuedDIVISION J: INFORMATION MEDIA AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS*INTRODUCTION

1. The Information Media and Telecommunications Division includes workplaces predominantly engaged in:
  - a) creating, enhancing and storing information products in media that allows for their dissemination;
  - b) transmitting information products using analogue and digital signals (via electronic, wireless, optical and other means); and
  - c) providing transmission services and/or operating the infrastructure to enable the transmission and storage of information and information products.

Definitions

2. Publishing means:
  - a) the creation and dissemination of information; and/or
  - b) owning or having a claim on a copyright and permitting other arm's length entities to use it in exchange for consideration is regarded as a publishing activity.

Classification Issue: Information products*Issue

3. Information products are products that are not tangible, and, unlike traditional goods, are not associated with a particular form. The value of information products is in their content rather than in the format in which they are distributed. Such products do not usually involve direct contact between the supplier/producer and the consumer, which distinguishes them from distribution activities included in the Wholesale Trade and Retail Trade Divisions. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces engaged in creating, enhancing and disseminating information products.

Rule

4. Workplaces predominantly engaged in producing, enhancing and disseminating information products are included in this Division, rather than in Division C - Manufacturing, Division - F Wholesale Trade or Division G - Retail Trade.

Example

A movie is an information product. It can be screened at a cinema, telecast on television or copied to video for sale or rental. Its value is in its content, not in the format in which it is distributed. Workplaces predominantly engaged in producing, enhancing or disseminating movies are included in this Division.

Classification Issue: Workplaces that own copyright and distribution rights*Issue

5. Some workplaces own copyright and distribution rights but do not distribute the works to which they own the rights. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

6. Workplaces that own copyright and distribution rights are included in this Division, whether or not they distribute the works.

A workplace predominantly engaged in corporate head office management services does not predominantly undertake operational control of, or activities directly integral to, the other workplace activities of the employer or group (including design of product, production control, cost accounting, managing contracts, sales of products etc). The specified requirements in class M69610 Corporate Head Office Management must be satisfied before a workplace can be classified to that class.

Workplaces predominantly engaged in the provision of operational (including day-to-day, regional, or divisional) management, organisation or administrative support services to other workplaces of the employer or other workplaces within the same group, whether they are in the same industry or different industries, are classified according to the
