EXEMPTION

Application No. H53/2014

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Brotherhood of St Laurence (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant and its sub-licensees to:

- in employing persons as home tutors, give preference to parents or carers of children participating in its Home Interaction Program for Parents and Youngsters (HIPPY) or parents or carers of candidates for HIPPY or parents or carers of children who have previously participated in HIPPY; and

- to advertise those matters

(the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Marian Pettit, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 18, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is licensed to operate HIPPY in Australia. HIPPY is a model which provides parents with the tools and support they need to teach their own children in their home. It originated in 1969 in Israel and has been replicated in 12 countries.
- In Australia, HIPPY is a two-year home-based parenting and early childhood enrichment program that empowers parents and carers to be their child's first teacher. The program builds the confidence and skills of parents and carers to create a positive learning environment to prepare their child for school. The program also offers participating parents and carers a supported pathway to employment and local community leadership in their role as a HIPPY Home Tutor. The program is targeted at disadvantaged areas with a high proportion of families with young children.
- Each program location is staffed by a tertiary qualified coordinator and a team of Home Tutors. Home Tutors are past or current parents participating in the program who live in the local community. The Home Tutors are paid employees and receive training. Home Tutors schedule regular contact with parents and carers to work through the program activities in the family's home. Role play is the method used by Home Tutors to facilitate the understanding of the parents and carers about how to do the activities. As the Home Tutors are past or current participants in HIPPY they are often better able to relate to the families with whom they work and they become role models for the parents because they are in the same role and have undertaken the program themselves. The result is that participating parents are encouraged and, in addition, the Home Tutors are trained and develop their own skills and confidence to improve their own lives. Between 30 March 2011 and 30 March 2014, 48 home tutors have been employed in Victoria.

- Previous exemptions have been granted to the applicant in similar terms, the last of which will expire on 2 July 2014. No exception applies to the exempt conduct and, in the absence of an exemption, after 30 March 2014, the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of persons who are not and have not been parents or carers of children participating in HIPPY who would wish to be employed. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 18, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from 3 July 2014 until 2 July 2019.

REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

Notice is given under section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared in relation to the proposed regulatory instrument, the scale of fees and charges for the Southern Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust (SMCT).

The proposed scale of fees and charges relating to pricing for cemetery services will be made under section 39 of the Cemeteries and Crematoria Act 2003. The proposed fees and charges include revisions to a set of existing fees and the introduction of new fees.

Objectives

The objective of the regulatory instrument is to inform the public about new SMCT burial and cremation service fees and revisions to a set of existing fees.

The RIS explains the benefits provided to the community by the SMCT and examines a range of options for the introduction and revision of the proposed fees. The preferred option is full cost recovery which includes providing for costs associated with the ongoing maintenance of the cemetery sites managed by the SMCT in perpetuity.

Submissions

Submissions on the RIS are invited and must be received no later than 5.00 pm on Thursday 19 June 2014. The submissions will be considered before the proposed regulations are made. NEIGHBOURHOOD SAFER PLACE
ASSESSMENT GUIDELINE

May 2014

INTRODUCTION

A Neighbourhood Safer Place (NSP) may as a last resort, provide shelter for people from the immediate life threatening effects of a bushfire.

An NSP is an area or premises that provides some protection from direct flame contact and radiant heat. It is an existing location and not a purpose-built, fire-proof structure. An NSP may be a local sports field, foreshore or park, or it may be located within a community facility such as a hall.

This assessment guideline sets out the process by which an appropriately trained CFA Officer assesses the suitability of an NSP and is not intended for use by the general public.

BACKGROUND

Reducing the impact of bushfires is a shared responsibility between government, emergency service organisations and the community. The community plays an integral role by implementing their bushfire survival plan and to take the necessary steps to prepare their property accordingly.

The 2009 Victorian Bushfires Royal Commission (VBRC) Final Report stated that the people who left their homes sheltered in a variety of locations, for example, other houses or buildings; bunkers, reserves and ovals; pubs; in-ground swimming pools, cars and dams. Some people reported that these were pre-planned alternatives and, in some cases, helped people survive. However, the VBRC also heard examples of people dying in very similar locations. This serves to highlight the fact that these ad hoc locations do not guarantee safety (VBRC Final Report Vol. 2: pg 19).

The VBRC also stated that ‘many people did not have a well-thought-out plan and were left to make their own decisions without the benefit of assistance from the authorities [and] for these people, the lack of alternatives, the provision of shelters, refuges or evacuation, became critical as a fallback option’ (VBRC Final Report Summary: pg. 5). It also ‘considered that a revised bushfire safety policy should provide information about places in which to shelter and support for individuals in identifying such places’ (VBRC Final Report Vol. 2: pg. 21). An NSP continues to be a part of the shelter options for community members.

CONCEPT

An NSP is a space that:

- is a place of last resort for individuals to access and shelter in during a fire event affecting their neighbourhood – without the need to take a high risk journey beyond their neighbourhood;
- eliminates direct exposure to flames from a fire front and management of radiant heat to survivable levels; and
- should only be accessed when personal bushfire survival plans (for individual properties) cannot be implemented or have failed.

NSPs do not guarantee the survival of those who assemble there.

Not all communities will have NSPs, as potential sites may not meet specific criteria identified in this document and further risk assessment criteria held within a Council’s Municipal Neighbourhood Safer Places Plan. Some communities may not have the fire risk profile to indicate a need for an NSP.

An NSP should not be confused with Community Fire Refuges¹, Relief Centres, Recovery Centres, Assembly Areas, or Informal Places of Shelter, each of which have a different and specific purpose.

¹ Community Fire Refuges have been described in the FSC Community Fire Refuge Policy (October 2011). This policy provides the framework for identifying, establishing, managing and maintaining community fire refuges in areas of very high risk where other bushfire survival options are limited. The practices and procedures associated with community fire refuges are beyond the scope of this document.

LIMITATIONS

An NSP has a number of limitations:

- limited capacity;
- no guarantee of safety;
- it may not cater for animals;
- emergency services will not necessarily be present;
- it does not provide meals or amenities;
- it may not cater for particular special needs (e.g. infants, elderly, ill or disabled);
- there are risks to people accessing, sheltering and leaving an NSP during the passage of the fire front;
- it is not assessed to be a place of shelter from other types of emergencies (e.g. to escape rising floodwaters or as a shelter from severe weather events); and
- it may be in the open and therefore provides no shelter from:
 - the elements, such as sunlight, wind or high temperatures; or
 - smoke and embers from the fire.

CFA NEIGHBOURHOOD SAFER PLACE ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

The criteria, by which CFA assesses an NSP, provides a framework to assist Municipal Councils to identify an NSP as a place of last resort for people to gather to shelter from the immediate life threatening effects of a bushfire. The primary purpose of an NSP is the protection of human life from a fire event.

An NSP should provide protection to people from lethal levels of radiant heat through an appropriate separation distance between fire hazards, particularly vegetation, and the site of the NSP. Isolated flammable elements (such as shrubs, grass, isolated trees, etc.) may be present within the separation space so long as such elements do not add to a fire's rate of spread nor significantly contribute to the radiant heat impacting on the NSP.

A collaboration between various organisations in the fire industry established criteria to determine the suitability of any site as an NSP. The critical criteria decided upon was radiant heat load with a maximum allowable radiant heat load agreed upon for sites that are open spaces and those that are buildings. It was further agreed that each NSP needs to be assessed on its merits, with radiant heat load calculated using the NSW Rural Fire Service Site Bush Fire Attack Assessment Methodology (Douglas and Tan, 2005) as the assessment tool in these guidelines, where there is a clear delineation between the edge of unmodified vegetation and the managed area that enables the NSP.

Where the vegetation adjoining any proposed or existing NSP site is significantly modified and/or fragmented (for example, in settlements), a fire tends to pass through the landscape via multiple ignitions of isolated flammable elements and relatively small localised vegetation patches. In this scenario it is recommended that the appropriate CFA Officer escalates assessment, following CFA's procedure. Escalation may include procuring further fire behaviour analysis to determine combined impact of localised flaming sources of heat; a collegial determination of compliance result according to maximum radiant heat load criteria.

RADIANT HEAT CRITERIA

|---|---|
| 1 | If an NSP is an OPEN SPACE, the maximum potential radiant heat impacting on the site should be no more than 2 kw/m ² . |
| 2 | If an NSP is a BUILDING, the maximum potential radiant heat impacting on the building should be no more than 10 kw/m ² . |

ADDITIONAL MANAGEMENT FOR A NEIGHBOURHOOD SAFER PLACE IN GRASSLAND AREAS

Grasslands have a distinct place in the NSP framework, due to:

- the potential for rapid growth of grasslands in conditions of adequate warmth and moisture; and
- the requirement under section 50J of the CFA Act for councils to review their NSPs by 31 August each year.

Councils may identify a suitable NSP site in a grassland area that can only meet the assessment criteria with active management of the site, over the fire danger period, with treatments including slashing, mowing or grazing.

In these circumstances CFA may certify the site as meeting the assessment criteria provided that appropriate, specified and prescribed treatments are in place throughout the fire danger period. This must include prescriptions for management of the grassland secured by agreed terms entered into by the landholder. The landholder may be the council, a public authority, an agency or a private person.

The identified treatment of the grassland must be included within the Municipal Fire Prevention Plan or Municipal Fire Management Plan (whichever is relevant). Council has the role of facilitation and, if required, enforcement of the treatment(s) during the fire danger period. Fire Prevention Notices should not ordinarily be an appropriate method for achievement of management prescriptions in NSPs. This method should only be used as a last resort by councils where a private landholder has reneged on their agreed conditions and the grassland condition constitutes, or may constitute, a danger to life or property from the threat of fire.

REVIEW OF A DESIGNATED NEIGHBOURHOOD SAFER PLACE

In accordance with section 50J of the CFA Act, a municipal council must, by 31 August in each year, conduct a review of each designated NSP in its municipal district to determine if it is still suitable to be designated as an NSP. This council review, or review on a designated site at any time of year, must include a request on CFA for reassessment.

On receiving a request, CFA must assess the NSP in accordance with the CFA Assessment Guidelines criteria. As part of a review reassessment, the appropriate CFA Officer may determine from local knowledge and evidence gathered that a site status is unchanged from previous assessment and therefore continues to satisfy the assessment criteria.

In these circumstances, CFA may certify that the NSP continues to meet the assessment criteria in the CFA Assessment Guideline and provide any advice pertaining to grassland management (where applicable).

GUIDELINES FOR THE EXPENDITURE OF INTEREST FROM THE INVESTMENT OF RETAINED PRISONER MONEYS FOR VICTIMS OF CRIME OR THEIR FAMILY MEMBERS

Context:

The nature and consequences of crime are at times highly unpredictable and can be extreme. Situations occur which are outside of the norm and victims and their family members may be placed in circumstances that fall outside those resources available via the Department of Justice (DOJ) funded Victims Assistance and Counselling Program (VACP).

The purpose of these guidelines is to assist victims and their families who are experiencing trauma caused by circumstances surrounding the aftermath of criminal activity that may be exacerbated by restricted system capacity or financial difficulties.

The purpose of requesting access to interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys:

These guidelines apply to expenditure of interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys for victims (of crime against the person) or their family members and are focused on the needs of victims and their families and the prevention of further trauma.

Corrections Amendment (Breach of Parole and Other Matters) Regulations 2014 provides that the Secretary may approve the expenditure of interest from retained prisoner moneys for purposes relating to assisting victims and their families.

What sort of applications may be made?

The criteria that will be applied for determining applications for funds will include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 1) Cases which include death or serious injury as the result of a crime against the person, needs are immediate and the case cannot be transferred expediently to VACPs
- 2) An identifiable and 'exceptional cost' to the victim that is not able to be met from other sources expediently (flights, forensic cleaning, accommodation for hospital/coronial/court support)
- 3) Where failing to solve the issue expediently will cause further harm/secondary victimisation
- 4) Inability to fund the solution from any other source after exploration/negotiation
- 5) When failing to respond undermines public confidence in the criminal justice system and victim support services
- 6) High profile cases
- 7) Where high profile/complex crimes occur in Victoria and the victims/related victims live outside Victoria and must return to Victoria/Australia for court processes
- 8) Supporting the work of the Office of Public Prosecutions (OPP) and the Child Witness Service (CWS) when they are not able to provide support (extended accommodation, transport to/from court hearings)
- 9) Where the purpose of the funding directly relates to benefitting victims and their families and there is no other viable funding source.

Applying to the Victim Support Agency (VSA) for access to interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys:

Once established that no other funding source is available or there is a delay in gaining approvals, a victim/their family member or service provider may apply to the VSA for access to interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys.

Assistance to access interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys may also be requested by the VACP via the VSA Victims of Crime Helpline (Helpline).

The VSA Manager (Victims Services or Helpline Operations) will assess the request and negotiate supports from a VACP provider or consider approval for VSA to fund a request from the prisoner interest funds with Director's approval as delegated from the Secretary, DOJ.

Business Hours – The person making the request will call the Helpline on 1800 819 817 and speak directly with the shift Supervisor and/or Helpline Operations Manager (8 am–11 pm, 7 days per week). In the absence of the Supervisor or Helpline Operations Manager, the person should request to speak with the Victims Services Manager.

After Hours – The person making the request should call the Helpline on 1800 819 817 and ask to speak to the Supervisor/Manager rostered on or on-call Manager (7 days per week).

What will happen after a request is made?

- VSA Manager will assess request (from service provider, victim or family member)
- VSA Manager will make a preliminary decision, and
- VACP Manager is contacted in the first instance by the Victims Services/Helpline Operations Manager to negotiate appropriateness/expenditure of VACP funds, or
- VSA Manager will seek endorsement from the VSA Director for expenditure of interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys.

Access to interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys Application Form will be submitted by the VSA Manager at the earliest opportunity for approval, and prior to processing the request where possible.

Other Practical Support:

Accommodation, flights, translation services, cleaning, food, childcare, transport and other practical supports will be sourced by VSA once expenditure of interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys is approved.

Issues/complaints:

The victim/family member or service provider requesting access to interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys will be required to provide the VSA with adequate detail to complete the application form/process.

If persons have complaints or concerns with regard to the administration or access to funds they should call the Helpline on 1800 819 817 and ask to speak with the Helpline Operations Manager in the first instance to resolve the matter.

Right of Refusal:

It is anticipated that all requests for access to interest from the investment of retained prisoner moneys that fit within these Guidelines will be looked at with the view to approving funding. However, there may be occasions where a request for funding will be declined due to a lack of available funds, the need to prioritise other urgent cases or circumstances when other sources of funding are available.
