INTERIM EXEMPTION

Application No. H163/2015

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Trafalgar High School (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and employ only a male in the role of Education Support – Integration (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Jane Mersey, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 18, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct until the application is finally heard and determined.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant school has applied for an exemption to employ only a male to provide one-on-one support to a male student at the school who, due to an accident, has incomplete paraplegia. The intention is to employ an Education Support – Integration worker to ensure that the student can return to school and participate in the usual classes and activities of a student of his age.
- The role includes: assisting the student on an individual or group basis in specific learning areas to access all curriculum; providing physical care for the student, including accessing toilet facilities and shower facilities when required and self-care needs, including assistance with changing of clothes and accessing food and drink; transferring assistance when required (including toilets, seats, cars and buses); assisting with intensive therapy sessions that will require lifting and transfers; providing emotional care and support for the student; and assisting with the supervision of the student, including in the school yard, at camps, on excursions and during therapy activities.
- The applicant wishes to employ a male only because it will be necessary for the worker to provide personal care to the student and also to have the strength to provide physical assistance to allow the student to move within the school environment. Given the student is a young man and, taking into account his cultural and religious beliefs as well as his age, a male worker can best provide that personal assistance and care.
- I am not presently satisfied that the conduct amounts to a special measure under section 12 of the Act or that an exception already applies to the exempt conduct such that no exemption is necessary. Accordingly, this interim exemption is granted while that matter is determined as the conduct may otherwise amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of women who would wish to be employed in the Education Support – Integration role. I am satisfied that, for the purposes of this interim exemption, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an interim exemption from the operation of sections 16, 18, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 10 November 2015.
