NOTICE OF PREPARATION OF REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

Building Regulations 2017

Notice is given under section 11 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 that a Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) has been prepared in relation to the Building Regulations 2017 (the proposed Regulations). The proposed Regulations are to be made under the Building Act 1993. Public comment is invited.

Reason for and objectives of the proposed Regulations

The proposed Regulations are intended to replace the existing Building Regulations 2006 which sunset on 5 June 2017 in accordance with regulation 3 of the Subordinate Legislation (Building Regulations 2006) Extension Regulations 2016.

The objectives of the proposed Regulations are:

- (a) to remake with amendments the regulations which control the design, construction and use of buildings and places of public entertainment; and
- (b) to prescribe standards for the construction and demolition of buildings; and
- (c) to prescribe standards of safety for places of public entertainment; and
- (d) to regulate matters relating to the use and maintenance of buildings and places of public entertainment; and
- (e) to prescribe requirements for the design and siting of single dwellings and associated buildings; and
- (f) to prescribe standards and matters relating to the maintenance of fire safety and safety measures; and
- (g) to prescribe requirements for swimming pool and spa safety; and
- (h) to provide for matters relating to the accreditation of building products, construction methods, designs, components and systems connected with building work; and
- (i) to prescribe qualifications and provide for other matters relating to registration of building practitioners; and
- (j) to prescribe fees in relation to matters before the Building Appeals Board, the Authority and the Building Regulations Advisory Committee; and
- (k) to provide for other matters for the purposes of the Building Act 1993.

Summary of the results of the regulatory impact statement

The RIS assesses the costs and benefits of the proposed Regulations and alternative options. The RIS concludes that the proposed Regulations are the best means of meeting the objectives of the Regulations. The Proposed Regulations largely remake and update the current Building Regulations 2006, but also introduce a number of substantive changes to improve consumer protection and safety.

- (b) Should Southern Rural Water’s cumulative departure from the estimated long-term average annual diversion volume be in debit following completion of the 5 year compliance assessment, annual compliance assessments with the diversion limit will be required until the annual assessment indicates the cumulative departure from the estimated long-term average annual diversion volume has returned to credit.
- (c) When the cumulative departure from the estimated long-term average annual diversion volume has returned to credit, Southern Rural Water may resume compliance assessments every 5 years.
- 5.2 Step 1: Update model input files
- (a) Update the model input files for the previous 5 year period from July to June since the assessment was last undertaken including inflows and irrigation and urban demands. The method for updating files is to be based on the method established in Thomson

Macalister REALM Model Update 2007 No. 2 (Sinclair Knight Merz, June 2008), but may be modified if this would improve the estimates.

- (b) The method for preparing model input files is to be documented. The documentation forms part of the compliance reporting.
- 5.3 Step 2: Calculate annual target diversion volume
- (a) The annual target diversion volume for the year just ended is determined by running the approved diversion limit model from July 2008 to June of the year just ended, with:
- (i) the model input files as updated in Step 1; and
 - (ii) the storage starting volumes of Lake Glenmaggie and Thomson Reservoir recorded on 1 July 2008.
- (b) The annual target diversion volume is the sum of the volumes that would have been diverted from the Thomson/Macalister system under this Order under baseline conditions, as calculated by the model where the diversion components are –

- = The sum of all diversions to supply primary entitlements:
 - = Release from Lake Glenmaggie to the Main Northern Channel
 - + Release from Lake Glenmaggie to the Main Southern Channel
 - + Release from Lake Glenmaggie to the Cowwarr Main Channel
 - + Release from Maffra Weir to the Main Eastern Channel
 - Release from the Southern Channel to the Thomson River

(The above releases include diversions for irrigation, system distribution losses, that part of town supplies taken from Southern Rural Water's channels, and domestic and stock water within irrigation districts.)
- + The sum of all volumes pumped to supply primary entitlements directly from:
 - Lake Glenmaggie;
 - the Macalister River between Lake Glenmaggie and the Thomson River;
 - Thomson Reservoir;
 - the Thomson River between Thomson Reservoir and the Latrobe River; and
 - Rainbow Creek.
- + Regulated urban bulk entitlements = the volumes diverted directly from the river by Gippsland Water¹ to supply its towns (includes Heyfield, Maffra/Stratford, Coongulla, Glenmaggie and other small towns).
- Any credits granted to Southern Rural Water by the Minister under clause 17 of the Order.
- The volume of any water that is returned to the water system in accordance with a condition in a licence issued under section 51 of the Act.

Note 1: Supply to some towns is partly from channels (accounted for by Southern Rural Water) and partly from the river (accounted for by Gippsland Water).

- (c) The annual target diversion volume is to be adjusted by:
 - (i) subtracting the final volumetric allocation against the environmental entitlements listed in Schedule 1; and
 - (ii) making adjustments as required for sub-clause 6.3; and
 - (iii) making any other necessary adjustments as required in consultation with the Department.

5.4 Step 3: Calculate the annual measured diversion volume

The annual measured diversion volume for the year just ended is the sum of the measured volumes taken from the system at the locations detailed in Step 2, including Step 2 (c) (ii).

5.5 Step 4: Calculate the cumulative departure from the estimated long-term average annual diversion volume

The cumulative departure from the estimated long-term average annual diversion volume is –

- (a) expressed as a volume:

= The sum of the differences between the annual target diversion volume and the annual measured diversion volume from 2008/09 to date in ML.

and

- (b) expressed as a percentage:

= [The sum of the differences between the annual target diversion volume and the annual measured diversion volume from 2008/09 to date in ML] x 100	÷	[The estimated long-term average annual diversion in ML]
---	---	--

Where:

The estimated long-term average annual diversion is the average annual modelled diversion between July 1955 and June 2004.

- (4) In clause 6.1 of Schedule 3A of the Bulk Entitlement, for ‘long term average annual diversion volume is greater than +20%,’ substitute ‘long-term average annual diversion volume is in debit by greater than 20%,’.

12 Amendment to Schedule 5 – Passing Flows

- (1) In clause 3 of Schedule 5 of the Bulk Entitlement, for ‘Q Wandocka = (2.073*(QBeardmore)0.5 + 4)2 if Q Beardmore ≤ 12 ML day’ substitute ‘Q Wandocka = (2.073*(QBeardmore)0.5 + 4)2 if Q Beardmore ≤ 12 ML day’.
