EXEMPTION

Application No. H143/2018

InTouch Multicultural Centre Against Family Violence applied to the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal under to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) for an exemption to advertise for and employ: (a) Only women in certain roles within the organisation, and (b) Only persons of specified cultural or racial backgrounds to undertake certain roles within the organisation (the exempt conduct).

The Executive Manager Galina Kozoolin filed an affidavit and other material in support of this application. The applicant was the subject of similar exemptions from 14 January 2008 to 1 January 2011 and from 13 August 2012 to 15 August 2017. The Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 18, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant provides advocacy and other services to women and children experiencing family violence. The applicant wishes to employ women in case work, legal, reception, administrative and other roles. There are occasions when the applicant employs men, for example in perpetrator intervention programs. The applicant employs persons from non-English speaking backgrounds.
- The applicant cited research which shows that the majority of family violence against women is perpetrated by men. This is reflected in the clientele of the service, noting that 90% of referrals relate to women seeking assistance for family violence and the majority of those women report abuse by their male partners. The applicant stated that consultations with clients relate to sensitive issues that affect women and children's safety and wellbeing and that this requires staff with cultural understanding and excellent communication skills.
- Submissions by the applicant satisfied me that isolation, lack of familiarity with local laws and procedures, fears of the impact of making reports on residency and migration status and complex cultural consequences of reporting abuse mean that their clients face barriers in seeking legal assistance and require specialised services from persons with a particular skill-set and life experience which can only be provided by women from non-English speaking backgrounds.
- The Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission indicated it would not intervene in the proceedings.
- It is appropriate to grant an exemption as otherwise the exempt conduct may amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of males or persons from English speaking backgrounds who would wish to be employed by the applicant. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 18, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from 30 August 2018 until 29 August 2023.

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994
(Section 12)

NOTICE OF DECISION

Child Wellbeing and Safety (Information Sharing) Regulations 2018

I, Jenny Mikakos, Minister for Families and Children, and Minister responsible for administering the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 (the Act), give notice under section 12 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 of my decision to make the proposed Child Wellbeing and Safety (Information Sharing) Regulations 2018 (the proposed Regulations).

The objectives of the proposed Regulations are to prescribe:

- the information sharing entities that can share information with one another for the purpose of promoting the wellbeing and safety of children;
- the record keeping requirements of those information sharing entities; and
- the secrecy and confidentiality provisions to allow information sharing under new Part 6A of the Act within the existing Victorian privacy framework.

A Regulatory Impact Statement (RIS) was prepared in relation to the proposed Regulations. A copy of the RIS and an Exposure Draft of the proposed Regulations was published at <https://engage.vic.gov.au>, on 16 May 2018 and notice of the RIS was published in the Government Gazette and The Age newspaper on 18 May 2018 inviting public comment. The 28 day comment period ended on 15 June 2018.

Written submissions in response to the RIS and proposed Regulations were received from 29 stakeholder groups, representing 32 stakeholders, and all were considered. The key issues raised related to:

- Delaying the commencement date of the proposed regulations;
- Introducing additional information sharing entities;
- Including additional record keeping obligations;
- Expanding the categories of excluded information; and
- Underestimating the estimated costs to information sharing entities in the RIS.

After consideration of the submissions received, I have decided that the proposed Regulations should be made with the following amendments:

- An amendment to the commencement date from 3 September 2018 to 27 September 2018, to support sector readiness for prescribed workforces
- The inclusion of additional information sharing entities, being –
 - authorised Hub entities; and
 - family violence perpetrator intervention programs and services
- removal of the Children’s Court and Magistrates’ Court as information sharing entities, subject to further consultation with these courts; and
- minor and technical amendments for the purpose of drafting consistency and clarity.
