Seeking Community Input

In accordance with section 54(4) of the Road Management Act 2004 and the Road Management (General) Regulations 2016, Cardinia Shire Council gives notice of its intention to conduct a review of its Road Management Plan.

Cardinia Shire Council ('Council') is proposing to:

- revoke the Road Management Plan which it made on 10 December 2018; and
- make a new Road Management Plan ('the proposed RMP').

The purpose of the proposed RMP is to detail Council's road management functions, set standards for the performance of these functions, base the standards on policy and operational objectives within the resources available and ensure the provision of a safe and efficient road network for use by road users and the community as a whole.

If made, the proposed RMP will:

- set out a schedule of maintenance standards for road pavements and surfaces, pathways, bridges, traffic signs and road-related drainage infrastructure;
- outline a workflow process and schedule for inspections, work planning, repairs, maintenance and monitoring of these assets; and
- refer to Council's register of public roads.

The proposed Road Management Plan can be inspected or obtained at Council's Customer Service Centre at 20 Siding Avenue, Officer, or accessed on Council's website at www.cardinia.vic.gov.au/haveyoursay

Any person can make a submission on the proposed RMP. Submissions must be lodged within 28 days of the publication of this notice.

Please address to: Coordinator Optimisation, Operational Planning and Support, Cardinia Shire Council, PO Box 7, Pakenham, Victoria 3810.

EXEMPTION

Application No. H12/2022

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Emma House Domestic Violence Service (the applicant). The applicant has amended its initial application and now seeks an exemption to allow it: to only assist women or persons who identify as women and their children experiencing domestic and family violence, and to only employ women or persons who identify as women (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavits of Cristie Lee Brian, joint acting chief executive officer, and Joanna Doman, quality compliance manager, and the written submissions and documents filed in support of the application, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant was established in 1979 as a feminist organisation operated by women with a vision of a society where women and children live lives free from violence. The applicant's purpose is to provide support and assistance to women and their accompanying children who are experiencing or have experienced domestic and/or family violence.
- The applicant is the primary specialist domestic and family violence service in Southwest Victoria. It provides services including case management, crisis accommodation, court support, legal program, personal safety initiative and a children's program. During 2020–2021, the applicant provided assistance to 2,804 female victim survivors.

- The applicant seeks to limit its services to female victim survivors because the significant majority of victim survivors are women and children. Statistics referred to in the reports submitted in support of the application indicate that women are nearly three times more likely than men to experience violence by a current or former partner, and that there is an urgent and immediate need for female victim survivors to access specialist family violence services in an environment that feels safe.¹
- The applicant recognises the disproportionate impact of family violence on women by focusing on providing an environment in which female victim survivors feel comfortable and unintimidated and above all safe. The applicant aims to provide a safe space for female victim survivors to seek support and assistance. To deliver its services effectively, the applicant considers it is necessary that the services and space in which they are provided are restricted to females only. The applicant provides mostly face-to-face services and is concerned that fewer females will access their services if males are present. Feedback from service users supports this approach.
- While some of the applicant's services may be characterised as special services for special needs as set out in section 88 of the Act, and some of the front-line employment positions may come under the exception in section 28, I am not satisfied that all employment positions would come under the exceptions in the Act, and therefore, in the absence of an exemption, the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- Given the target group for the services offered, and the safe space face-to-face service delivery model used by the applicant, I am satisfied the services offered by the applicant can be most effectively provided by an organisation that employs women only.

¹ Summary and Recommendations from the Royal Commission into Family Violence March 2016, Practice Guidelines: Women and children's family violence counselling and support programs, safety, dignity, empowerment and human rights Victorian Government Project 2008, Women's Legal Service Policy Paper 1 Police Misidentification of the primary aggressor in family violence incidents in Victoria July 2018.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (the Charter). This exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of persons who do not identify as women, who wish to be employed by the applicant. I note this exemption will not preclude potential job seeker from seeking employment with other services. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 12 May 2027.

VICTORIAN PHARMACY AUTHORITY STANDARDS

INTRODUCTION AND INTERPRETATION

About the Victorian Pharmacy Authority

The Victorian Pharmacy Authority ('the Authority') has important functions and powers under the Pharmacy Regulation Act 2010 ('the Act') which regulates the ownership and operation of pharmacy businesses, pharmacy departments and pharmacy depots.

The Authority's functions and powers under the Act include:

- licensing a person to carry on a pharmacy business or a pharmacy department;
- registering the premises of pharmacy businesses, pharmacy departments and pharmacy depots, herein collectively referred to as registered premises unless specified individually;

- maintaining a public register of all licensees and registered premises;
- issuing standards in relation to the operation of pharmacies, pharmacy businesses, pharmacy departments and pharmacy depots;
- inspecting registered premises to ensure that standards are being met and maintained.

Scope and application of the Standards

These standards, issued by the Authority ('the Standards'), have been approved by the Victorian Minister for Health as required under section 86 of the Act.

The Standards reflect the requirements of the Act, including the Schedule to the Act and are supported by the Victorian Pharmacy Authority Guidelines ('the Guidelines'). They should be read in conjunction with these documents.

In undertaking its functions under the Act, the Authority must have regard to the need to maintain standards, which help to ensure the facilities, equipment, security, management and operation of the registered premises comply with the Act and good pharmacy practice.

In relation to good pharmacy practice, the Authority recognises the standards, codes, guidelines and policies issued by the Pharmacy Board of Australia and has regard to standards, codes and guidelines issued by the Pharmaceutical Society of Australia, The Society of Hospital Pharmacists of Australia, Victorian Department of Health and Therapeutic Goods Administration.

These Standards apply to all registered premises in Victoria, except where specifically excluded. The licensee is responsible for meeting the Standards.

What happens if the Standards are not met?

The Authority may investigate a matter based on a notification of an alleged contravention of an Authority standard or if there is evidence of a contravention (sections 53 and 54 of the Act). The Authority may, among other things, convene a panel hearing in respect of matters that have been the subject of an investigation (section 57 of the Act). The Authority may revoke a licence or a registration if the licensee has contravened a standard on one or more occasions and the Authority believes it is against the public interest for that person to continue carrying on a pharmacy business or pharmacy department, or a breach of the Standards presents a serious risk to public safety (section 55 of the Act).

Structure of the Standards

The Standards are grouped into categories and sub-categories as follows:

1. Licensee responsibilities	2. Premises
1.1 Compliance	2.1 Essential and ongoing requirements
1.2 Management	2.2 Alterations
1.3 Records	2.3 Security
1.4 Policies and procedures	2.4 Design, layout and condition

The categories include an overlying principle which describes the desired outcome which will be achieved by compliance with the Standards.
