Forests Act 1958

DETERMINATION OF FIREWOOD COLLECTION AREAS

I, Scott Falconer, Deputy Chief Fire Officer, Loddon Mallee Region, Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning, make the following determination under section 57U of the Forests Act 1958.

Definitions

In this determination and with reference to the numbered item in the table in the determination:

- (a) closing date, being the date of revocation of the determination of the firewood collection area, means the date specified in column 6 of the item;
- (b) opening date, being the date on which the determination of the firewood collection area comes into operation, means the date specified in column 5 of the item.

Determination

Each area of State forest shown hatched on a plan lodged in the Central Plan Office of the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning, the number of which is shown in column 1 of the item in the table in this determination, is a firewood collection area for the purposes of section 57U of the Forests Act 1958, effective from the opening date for that area until the closing date for that area (inclusive).

Being satisfied that it is necessary to do so for management of the supply of fallen or felled trees for domestic use as firewood in the region of the State comprising the shires of Campaspe, Gannawarra, Loddon and Swan Hill Rural City Council, I specify that only the following classes of persons (or their nominees) may cut and take away fallen or felled trees in the firewood collection area:

- (a) residents of the Shire of Campaspe;
- (b) residents of the Shire of Gannawarra;
- (c) residents of the Shire of Loddon;
- (d) residents of the Swan Hill Rural City Council.

- 4.2 ACCS must ensure that, before a person is employed as a Conciliation Officer, ACCS establishes that the person:
 - a) is of good character, integrity and reputation;
 - b) has the appropriate qualifications, skills, competencies and attributes to conduct conciliations, for example, appropriate knowledge and experience of the Victorian WorkCover Scheme, or other similar workers compensation schemes or appropriate knowledge and experience in dispute resolution.
- 4.3 ACCS must ensure Conciliation Officers complete relevant induction and any ongoing training and professional development, appropriate to performing the duties of a Conciliation Officer.
- 4.4 The appropriate qualifications, skills, competencies, and training required by ACCS must be informed, as far as practicable, by contemporary best-practice in conciliation.

5 Conflict of Interest

- 5.1 Conciliation Officers must conduct conciliations impartially and independently.
- 5.2 ACCS must make policies and procedures for managing conflicts of interest (whether real or perceived) during the conduct of conciliations, including:
 - a) when and how Conciliation Officers must declare conflicts of interests;
 - b) the manner in which parties to a dispute may raise a potential conflict; and
 - c) how the conflict of interest will be resolved.

6 Conduct of conciliations

- 6.1 In the conduct of conciliation, a Conciliation Officer shall perform their duties and exercise powers to conciliate disputes in accordance with the WIRC Act and the policies and procedures of ACCS.
- 6.2 ACCS policies and procedures must require that Conciliation Officers:
 - a) conduct conciliations in a fair, economical, informal and quick way;
 - b) comply with the principles of procedural fairness; and
 - c) ensure all reasonable efforts are made to bring the parties to agreement.
- 6.3 When participating in conciliation, parties must engage in conciliation meaningfully and genuinely. Parties must take all reasonable steps to resolve disputes and conduct themselves in accordance with ACCS policies and procedures. Agents and self-insurers must take all reasonable steps to settle disputes. This will be evidenced by, among other things, the agent or self-insurer:
 - a) providing all relevant information in its possession in a timely manner prior to the conference. If unable to provide information in its possession in a timely manner prior to the conference, the reasons for the non-compliance;
 - b) attending the conference;
 - c) meaningfully and genuinely discussing all relevant issues raised at conference; and
 - d) ensuring that it maintains only the decisions which have a reasonable prospect of success were they to proceed to Arbitration or Court.

- 6.4 ACCS must also create policies and procedures regarding the circumstances and processes by which a Conciliation Officer could remove or prohibit a person from a conciliation conference, including if the Conciliation Officer determines that the person has interfered with, disrupted, or obstructed the conference or has failed to comply with ACCS policies and procedures, and how a party may make a complaint or appeal a Conciliation Officer's decision.
- 6.5 ACCS may dismiss a dispute from conciliation under section 294(1)(e) of the WIRC Act, for any appropriate reason, including if a claimant is no longer able to participate, or upon notification from parties that they have resolved the dispute by agreement. ACCS must make policies and procedures in relation to dismissal of a dispute, including how a party to a dispute can seek a dismissal and the relevant grounds for dismissal. When deciding whether to dismiss a dispute, ACCS must balance ensuring procedural fairness and facilitating the fair and final resolution of disputes.
- 6.6 Where ACCS dismisses a dispute from conciliation and the claimant makes an application for further conciliation, ACCS must, as far as practicable, ensure the dispute is heard by the same Conciliation Officer.

7 Representation by a legal practitioner

- 7.1 Under section 290A of the WIRC Act, a person who is a party to a dispute is not entitled to be represented by a legal practitioner at a conciliation conference. This means a legal practitioner does not attend a conciliation conference unless, pursuant to section 290A, ACCS agrees to the party being represented, having regard to:
 - a) the fairness of allowing the party to be represented, including whether each party is able to represent themselves effectively;
 - b) whether it would enable the matter to be dealt with more efficiently; and
 - c) any other matters specified in policies and procedures of ACCS published under section 301B.
- 7.2 ACCS policies and procedures must specify the factors ACCS will consider when deciding on a submission from a party seeking that they be represented by a legal practitioner, including:
 - a) the duty of ACCS under section 281A of the WIRC Act and the principles and objectives of conciliation;
 - b) the complexity of the dispute;
 - c) the volume, nature and technicality of relevant information;
 - d) the value of the claim;
 - e) whether the party is vulnerable, including whether they have the ability to understand, participate and effectively present their case without legal representation; and
 - f) the number of parties and participants in the conference.
- 7.3 ACCS must consider the submission of each party seeking legal representation separately. Where ACCS agrees to one party being represented by a legal practitioner, it need not agree to another party or parties also being represented.

8 Assistance by others

- 8.1 A party may be assisted at conciliation by persons who are not legal practitioners (as defined in the WIRC Act) such as union representatives, employer or self-insurer association representatives, legal guardians or another person nominated by the party to assist them at conciliation.
- 8.2 Before commencing a conciliation conference, a party wishing to be assisted by a person who is not a legal practitioner must notify ACCS.

9 Attendance of support persons

- 9.1 A support person is a person who attends a conciliation conference for the purpose of supporting a party in their personal capacity (for example, by providing emotional support) but does not represent the party in the conciliation conference.
- 9.2 Before the commencement of a conciliation conference, a party wishing to have a support person must notify ACCS.

10 Employer participation

- 10.1 Where appropriate, ACCS should encourage participation in conciliation by the employer, including attendance at the conciliation conference by an appropriate employee or officer of the employer.
- 10.2 Before commencing a conciliation conference, the employer, or the authorised agent or self-insurer on behalf of the employer, must notify ACCS in a timely manner of the employer's intention to participate in the conference.
- 10.3 A Conciliation Officer may request an employer to participate in a conciliation conference to provide information relevant to the dispute.

11 Interpreter and other services

- 11.1 ACCS must assist claimants where assistance is necessary for them to participate in a conciliation conference, including providing (free of charge):
- a) reasonable adjustments for people with a disability; and
 - b) professional interpreter services.

12 Conciliation Outcome

- 12.1 Under section 298 of the WIRC Act, a Conciliation Officer may issue a certificate stating that they are satisfied that there is a genuine dispute. ACCS must make policies and procedures requiring that the genuine dispute certificates issued under section 298 must also include information of possible next steps, including referring the dispute for arbitration under section 301C of the WIRC Act, or proceeding to court under section 273 of the WIRC Act.
- 12.2 ACCS must also make policies and procedures that set out the process of responding to a party's requests for copies of documents provided by them or other documents provided to or produced by ACCS relevant to the dispute, exchanged with the party and held as part of the conciliation file.

13 Record Keeping

- 13.1 ACCS must maintain a database of records relating to applications for conciliation. The database must include details of any applications lodged for conciliation, including the number of applications both declined and accepted for conciliation, the number of conferences held, dismissals, genuine dispute certificates and other outcome certificates issued.

Workplace Injury Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2013
MINISTERIAL GUIDELINES IN RESPECT OF ARBITRATION

1 Preamble

- 1.1 These guidelines are made by the Minister for Workplace Safety, Ingrid Stitt MP, as to the procedures of the Accident Compensation Conciliation Service (ACCS)¹ pursuant to section 301ZA of the Workplace Injury Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2013 (WIRC Act).
- 1.2 In accordance with section 611 of the WIRC Act, these guidelines take effect from 1 September 2022.
- 1.3 ACCS has certain duties under the WIRC Act, including that ACCS must, having regard to the need to be fair, economical, informal and quick, and having regard to the objectives of the WIRC Act, make all reasonable efforts to arbitrate in relation to a dispute to bring the parties to agreement or determine the dispute.
- 1.4 Pursuant to section 301ZB of the WIRC Act, ACCS may make policies and procedures in relation to the conduct of arbitrations.
- 1.5 ACCS must develop policies and procedures in accordance with these guidelines for the purposes of:
 - a) ensuring procedural fairness in the conduct of arbitration hearings; and
 - b) facilitating the proper administration of ACCS for arbitration hearings.
- 1.6 Terms used in these guidelines have the same meaning as in the WIRC Act, unless otherwise stated.

2 ACCS policies and procedures for arbitration

- 2.1 ACCS policies and procedures must reflect the requirement for arbitrations to be informal, inexpensive and timely.
- 2.2 ACCS policies and procedures in relation to the conduct of arbitration hearings must be written in plain English and easily accessible to all parties to a dispute, particularly claimants, and published on the ACCS website.
- 2.3 ACCS must not make policies and procedures relating to the conduct of a specific arbitration or direct Arbitration Officers in relation to the outcome of a specific arbitration.

3 Referral to arbitration

Parties to be notified of possible outcomes of arbitration

- 3.1 Subject to section 301C of the WIRC Act, any claimant with a genuine dispute may refer the dispute for arbitration, including for claims that are initially rejected by agents or self-insurers. Notwithstanding the cap on compensation that may be awarded by ACCS in arbitration under section 301S of the WIRC Act, a claimant may make a claim for compensation through arbitration regardless of its value or if it relates to liability only.
- 3.2 The parties to a dispute, and in particular claimants, should be made aware of how arbitration will be conducted and the possible outcomes of the arbitration available under the WIRC Act.
- 3.3 Before the commencement of an arbitration hearing, ACCS must provide information to the claimant about:
 - a) the arbitration process, including:
 - i) that they may seek legal advice about a dispute referred to arbitration;
 - ii) who may represent parties at an arbitration hearing and the process by which ACCS may agree to a party being represented;

¹ Trading as the Workplace Injury Commission

- iii) how costs may be awarded, including when ACCS may order the claimant to pay costs under section 301W(3) of the WIRC Act;
- iv) appeal rights under section 301Z of the WIRC Act
- b) the possible outcomes of the arbitration, including:
 - i) resolution by agreement of the parties;
 - ii) dismissal of the dispute under section 301N of the WIRC Act;
 - iii) determinations ACCS may make under section 301R of the WIRC Act;
 - iv) determinations ACCS may make about liability and compensation under section 301S of the WIRC Act; and
 - v) that, if a further notice of any decision is issued to a claimant in respect of their workers' compensation claim, they may still dispute that further decision and seek to resolve that further dispute under the WIRC Act (e.g. by lodging a further application for conciliation of the dispute by ACCS).

Late or out of time referrals of disputes

- 3.4 Under section 301D of the WIRC Act, ACCS may allow an extension of time for referring a dispute for arbitration, or a referral for arbitration of a dispute to be lodged out of time if it considers it appropriate in the particular circumstances, but must:
- a) ensure procedural fairness in the conduct of arbitration hearings; and
 - b) facilitate the fair and final resolution of those disputes in an informal, inexpensive, and timely manner.
- 3.5 ACCS must make policies and procedures setting out the circumstances in which ACCS may allow for a late, or out of time, referral of a dispute including:
- a) the extent of, and reasons for the delay;
 - b) the claimant's particular circumstances that may have contributed to the delay, including health or capacity to lodge the referral, ability to obtain legal advice or access to documents or information;
 - c) the complexity of the dispute;
 - d) any prejudice to parties; and
 - e) any other relevant circumstances in the context of arbitration.

4 Arbitration Officers

- 4.1 Under section 531(1)(ab) of the WIRC Act, ACCS may employ such numbers of Arbitration Officers to conduct arbitrations as it considers necessary to enable it to perform its functions.
- 4.2 ACCS must ensure that, before a person is employed as an Arbitration Officer, ACCS establishes that the person:
- a) is of good character, integrity and reputation; and
 - b) has the appropriate qualifications, skills, competencies and attributes to conduct arbitrations, for example, appropriate knowledge and experience of the Victorian WorkCover scheme, other similar workers compensation schemes or appropriate knowledge and experience in statutory decision-making.
- 4.3 ACCS must ensure Arbitration Officers complete relevant induction and any ongoing training and professional development, appropriate to performing the duties of an Arbitration Officer.
- 4.4 The appropriate qualifications, skills, competencies, and training required by ACCS must be informed, as far as practicable, by contemporary best-practice in arbitration.

5 Conflict of Interest

- 5.1 Arbitration Officers must conduct arbitrations impartially and independently.
- 5.2 ACCS must make policies and procedures for managing conflicts of interest (whether real or perceived) during the conduct of arbitrations, including:
 - a) when and how Arbitration Officers must declare conflicts of interest;
 - b) the manner in which parties to a dispute may raise a potential conflict; and
 - c) how the conflict of interest will be resolved.

6 Conduct of arbitration hearing

- 6.1 In the conduct of arbitration, an Arbitration Officer shall perform their duties and exercise powers to hear and determine disputes in accordance with the WIRC Act and the policies and procedures of the ACCS.
- 6.2 ACCS policies and procedures must require that Arbitration Officers:
 - a) conduct arbitration hearings in an informal, inexpensive and timely way;
 - b) comply with the principles of procedural fairness, including ensuring all parties to the dispute receive a fair hearing; and
 - c) make logical decisions when determining disputes and be able to clearly communicate the reasons for a determination to all parties to the dispute.
- 6.3 ACCS may adjourn the arbitration of a dispute under section 301M of the WIRC Act. ACCS must make policies and procedures in relation to the manner and circumstances for seeking and granting adjournments. To facilitate timely resolutions of disputes, ACCS must discourage Arbitration Officers from granting long or multiple adjournments, except where such adjournments would ensure procedural fairness.
- 6.4 ACCS may dismiss a dispute from arbitration under section 301N of the WIRC Act, without making a determination for any appropriate reason, including if a party to the dispute is no longer able to participate or if the parties resolve the dispute by agreement. ACCS must make policies and procedures in relation to dismissal of a dispute, including how a party to a dispute can seek a dismissal and the relevant grounds for dismissal. When deciding whether to dismiss a dispute, ACCS must balance ensuring procedural fairness and facilitating the fair and final resolution of the dispute.
- 6.5 Where ACCS dismisses a dispute from arbitration and is satisfied that there is a genuine dispute in connection with the claim, ACCS must notify the parties to the dispute that ACCS is satisfied there is a genuine dispute in connection with the claim, and that the claimant may apply to have the matter determined by a court, or have the matter determined by further arbitration. Where the claimant applies to have the dispute determined by further arbitration, ACCS must, as far as practicable, ensure the dispute is heard by the same Arbitration Officer.
- 6.6 Where the parties have resolved a dispute or any part of a dispute by agreement and ACCS has not made a determination under section 301R of the WIRC Act, ACCS may, where appropriate:
 - a) refer the dispute or part of the dispute for further conciliation so that an outcome certificate may be issued under section 296 of the WIRC Act; or
 - b) dismiss the dispute or part of the dispute, without determining there is a genuine dispute in connection with the claim within the meaning of section 298 of the WIRC Act.
- 6.7 ACCS must also provide for an Arbitration Officer to remove or prohibit a person from an arbitration hearing, if the Arbitration Officer determines that the person has interfered with, disrupted or obstructed the hearing, or has failed to comply with ACCS policies and procedures in relation to the conduct of arbitration.

7 Representation by a legal practitioner

- 7.1 Under section 301G of the WIRC Act, a person who is a party to a dispute is not entitled to be represented by a legal practitioner at an arbitration hearing, except where ACCS agrees to the party being represented, having regard to:
- a) the fairness of allowing the party to be represented, including whether each party is able to represent themselves effectively;
 - b) whether it would enable the matter to be dealt with more efficiently; and
 - c) any other matters specified in policies and procedures of ACCS published under section 301ZB of the WIRC Act.
- 7.2 ACCS policies and procedures must specify the factors ACCS will consider when deciding on a submission from a party seeking that they be represented by a legal practitioner, including:
- a) the duty of ACCS under section 281A of the WIRC Act and the principles and objectives of arbitration;
 - b) the complexity of the matter;

 - d) the value of the claim;
 - e) whether the party is vulnerable, including whether they have the ability to understand, participate and effectively present their case without legal representation; and
 - f) the number of parties and participants in the hearing.
- 7.3 ACCS must consider the submission of each party seeking legal representation separately. Where ACCS agrees to one party being represented by a legal practitioner, it need not agree to another party or parties also being represented.

8 Representation by others

- 8.1 A party may be represented at an arbitration hearing by persons who are not legal practitioners (as defined in the WIRC Act) such as union representatives, employer or self-insurer association representatives, legal guardians or another person nominated by the party to advocate on their behalf.
- 8.2 Before the commencement of an arbitration hearing, a party wishing to be represented by a person who is not a legal practitioner must notify ACCS.

9 Attendance of support persons

- 9.1 A support person is a person who attends an arbitration hearing for the purpose of supporting or assisting a party in their personal capacity (for example, by providing emotional support) but does not represent the party in the arbitration hearing.
- 9.2 Before the commencement of an arbitration hearing, a party wishing to have a support person attend the arbitration hearing must notify ACCS.
- 9.3 ACCS must provide for an Arbitration Officer to remove or prohibit a support person from an arbitration hearing if the Arbitration Officer determines that the person has interfered with, disrupted or obstructed the hearing, or has failed to comply with ACCS policies and procedures in relation to the conduct of arbitration.

- 11.3 To facilitate the timely resolution of a dispute, ACCS must make determinations within the timelines specified in section 301P of the WIRC Act except in exceptional circumstances, which may include:
 - a) the Arbitration Officer, or party to the dispute, is indisposed for medical or unexpected personal circumstances;
 - b) where the dispute involves significant complexity or requires further information or evidence to be presented; or
 - c) exceptional circumstances relating to resourcing and case management by ACCS.

12 Costs awarded against the claimant

- 12.1 Regardless of the outcome of an arbitration hearing, the Authority, an employer or self-insurer (as the case requires) is liable to bear their own costs, unless ACCS orders the claimant to pay costs of the other party if ACCS determines that the claim is fraudulent or vexatious.
- 12.2 ACCS policies and procedures must specify the circumstances in which the claim is fraudulent or vexatious and therefore, it may order the claimant to pay costs, including where an Arbitration Officer determines the claimant has:
 - a) attempted to deceive or mislead the other party, the Arbitration Officer or ACCS (for example, by relying on or producing fraudulent information);
 - b) commenced or continued with arbitration where it was reasonably apparent the claimant would have no reasonable prospect of success;
 - c) lodged referrals for arbitration that are an abuse of process.
- 12.3 In determining any costs awarded against the claimant, ACCS must consider any amounts fixed by the Minister and published in accordance with section 301W(4) of the WIRC Act.
- 12.4 Before making an order for costs against the claimant, ACCS must give all parties to the application an opportunity to be heard.

13 Record Keeping

- 13.1 ACCS must maintain a database of records relating to disputes referred for arbitration. The database must include details of any disputes referred to arbitration, including the number of referrals both declined and accepted for arbitration, the number of hearings held, dismissals, adjournments and determination certificates issued.

Workplace Injury Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2013

NOTICE OF SCHEDULE OF FEES AND COSTS FOR ARBITRATION

Pursuant to section 301W of the Workplace Injury Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2013, I, the Minister for Workplace Safety, Ingrid Stitt MP give notice of the following amounts payable (including GST) in respect of the reasonable costs of a claimant that the Accident Compensation and Conciliation Service (ACCS)¹ must award under section 301W.

Schedule of Costs for Legal Practitioner’s Costs and Disbursements

These items correspond to consecutive, cumulative milestones for all Arbitration matters, with the Arbitration Officer to award costs after a determination in favour of the Claimant to include item 1.1 and then add all relevant consequential items as determined by the Arbitration Officer for the particular matter. Should parties come to an agreement prior to the Arbitration Officer making a determination, they may include, as part of their agreement, an amount for costs calculated using this Schedule, incorporating the applicable milestones. Where ACCS orders the Claimant to pay costs of the other party in accordance with section 301W(3), the Arbitration Officer may be guided by the amounts in this Schedule.

In fixing costs for Arbitration, the appropriate scale for use in the Schedule is determined based on the amount of the determination in the Claimant’s favour. In matters of liability, the appropriate scale that applies is subject to the Arbitration Officer’s discretion after taking into account the complexity of the matter, the difficulty and novelty of the questions involved, the skill, knowledge and responsibility involved, the general care and conduct of the legal practitioner and other relevant matters.

The costs set out refer to work done by a legal practitioner within the meaning of the Uniform Law.
