HUMAN RIGHTS LIST EXEMPTION

Application No. H282/2022

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Women's Liberation Halfway House Inc. (the Applicant). The Applicant has clarified its initial application and now seeks an exemption to enable it to:

- a) advertise for and employ or engage only females and those who identify as females;
- b) request information from applicants for employment in relation to their sex and gender identity;

- c) offer and provide accommodation to females and those who identify as females and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years, only; and
- d) advertise the Applicant's services as services for females and those who identify as females only and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years.

To allow the Applicant to provide crisis accommodation and other support services in an all-female environment (the exempt conduct).

The initial application included a request for an exemption to enable the Applicant to offer and provide services to females and those who identify as females and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years, only. This was discussed at the directions hearing on 14 September 2022, including whether the applicant required an exemption for this proposed exempt conduct given the operation of section 88 of the Act. In their subsequent submissions, the Applicant submitted that section 88 may apply to this conduct. For the reasons given below, the Tribunal has removed this activity from the exempt conduct.

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Deborah Bryant, Executive Director of the Applicant, and having had regard to the written submissions provided in support of the Applicant, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 44, 52, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the Applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, I note:

- The Applicant is a family violence service which provides, in an all-female environment, high security accommodation in their refuge, transitional housing and motel accommodation, and intensive case management services and support, to females and those who identify as female and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years, who are experiencing family violence.
- The Applicant currently employs six staff members on a part-time basis. They include one senior family violence practitioner, three family violence practitioners, and two operational staff (Executive Director and Financial Officer). The Applicant's office was previously located separately from the refuge, but since August 2022, the office and refuge are based in the same location. All staff members are based at the office, and while not all staff roles are primarily tasked with direct client contact and service provision, all staff positions are part-time. The Applicant runs a 24-hour accommodation service, and therefore all staff members, regardless of role, may be required to have some contact with clients.

- In the 2020–2021 financial year, the Applicant provided services to 245 females and 264 children. Fifty-eight females and their children were accommodated at the refuge, many from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds. The case management support provided for these clients' special needs included support in relation to legal affairs, visa matters, finances, physical and mental health, housing, schooling and safety. The Applicant provides its accommodation and services in an all-female environment. This is because females and those who identify as female and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years, who are escaping family violence and needing immediate protection, are often fleeing violence by males¹. These clients can feel intimidated and threatened by males as a result of their experiences. The purpose behind the all-female environment is to ensure they feel safe and comfortable accessing services critical to their wellbeing, health and safety in a non-threatening, secure environment. The Applicant believes it is not appropriate for their clients to be required to interact with males in respect of the services the Applicant offers.
- The Tribunal has previously granted exemptions to the Applicant for similar conduct, with the most recent exemption granted on 6 September 2017.
- The Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission was notified of this application and indicated it did not seek leave to intervene.

- On the evidence before me, I am satisfied that the services provided by the Applicant to females and those who identify as females and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years, who have experienced family violence, which are designed to meet their special needs, are special services as set out under section 88 of the Act. Therefore, the Applicant does not require an exemption in order to limit eligibility to these services to females and those who identify as females and their children, including boys aged up to 17 years.
- I am also satisfied that the exception contained in section 28 of the Act applies to the staff roles that are primarily tasked with the provision of services for the special needs of the Applicant's clients. That is because I am satisfied that the provision of those special services can be provided most effectively by people with the same attribute, being females and those who identify as females.
- However, I am not satisfied that the work of the operational staff can only be provided most effectively by females and those who identify as females, and therefore the section 28 exception does not apply to those roles.
- Therefore, in the absence of an exemption, the exempt conduct of employing only females and those who identify as females in all roles with the Applicant would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- Nevertheless, given the size of the organisation and physical location of the office and refuge, and given the vulnerability and special needs of its clients, I accept that the services provided by the Applicant are most effectively delivered by an organisation that employs only females and those who identify as females, and in an all-female environment.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (the Charter). This exemption limits the right to equality and, in particular, the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of people who are not female and who do not identify as female, who wish to be employed by the Applicant or who are seeking access to its services. I accept the importance of providing an all-female safe and secure environment for females and those who identify as females and their children, who are escaping family violence and who need immediate protection and special services. I consider the exempt conduct is focused and directed to deliver this, and I accept there is no less restrictive means reasonably available to achieve this. I also note the exemption will not adversely affect anyone seeking employment or services from other organisations. On the evidence before me, I am satisfied that the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

- Based on the evidence and considerations noted above, I am satisfied in all the relevant circumstances of the case, that it is appropriate to grant the exemption.
- I am also satisfied that the exemption should be granted for the period of five years.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 44, 52, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the Applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption is to remain in force from the day on which notice of the exemption is published in the Government Gazette until 21 September 2027.

Delegate of the Victorian WorkCover Authority

Subordinate Legislation Act 1994NOTICE OF DECISION*Circular Economy (Waste Reduction and Recycling) Act 2021

As the Minister responsible for the Circular Economy (Waste Reduction and Recycling) Act 2021, I give notice under section 12 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 (the Act) that, further to public consultation on a regulatory impact statement (RIS), I have decided to recommend the making of the Circular Economy (Waste Reduction and Recycling) (Container Deposit Scheme) Regulations 2022.

The RIS and a draft of the proposed Regulations were advertised for public comment on May 26 to June 28, 2022. Victorians could provide feedback by written feedback or completing an online survey on Engage Victoria. A total of 53 written submissions and 1097 survey responses were received.

I hereby give notice of the decision to make the proposed Circular Economy (Waste Reduction and Recycling) (Container Deposit Scheme) Regulations 2022.

After consideration of the feedback, in accordance with section 11(3) of the Act, I have decided that the proposed Regulations should be made with amendments to the draft of the proposed Regulations that were released for public comment. The key amendments include:

- a. Regulation 6(2)(b) wording has changed from ‘is designed to hold 1 litre or less of milk’ to ‘is designed to hold less than 1 litre of flavoured milk’. This is consistent with schemes in other Australian jurisdictions and resolves the contradiction with Regulation 5(a) which lists milk as an exempt beverage.
- b. The list of eligible containers for wine or wine-based beverages at regulation 6(2) has been expanded to include aluminium cans, plastic containers and sachets. This inclusion aligns with the policy intent legislated in the Act.

More details on how submissions have been considered and responded to are set out in the Consultation Summary document published on <https://engage.vic.gov.au/container-deposit-scheme> and a hard copy can be made available at the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning, 8 Nicholson Street, Melbourne, Victoria, by emailing container.deposit@delwp.vic.gov.au

After the proposed Regulations are made, they will become available for download from www.legislation.vic.gov.au The Circular Economy (Waste Reduction and Recycling) (Container Deposit Scheme) Regulations 2022 will come into operation on 27 September 2022.
