EXEMPTION

Application No. H3429/2024

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 ('the Act') by Australian Youth Climate Coalition Limited ('the applicant'). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to advertise for and select staff under the age of thirty (30) years ('the exempt conduct').

An application for exemption from section 18 of the Act was withdrawn by the applicant at the hearing because of inconsistency with the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 ('the Charter').

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of James Atkinson and having regard to an earlier exemption which expired on 4 July 2023, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption the Tribunal noted:

- The Australian Youth Climate Coalition was founded in 2006 as a coalition of Australian youth organisations, to build a movement of young people working on the issue of climate change. It aims to educate, inspire, network with and motivate young people to be a voice on the issue of climate change and to take local and national action. It is a non-profit company limited by guarantee. Its core funding requirements are largely met through grants and donations from philanthropic foundations.
- The purpose of the Australian Youth Climate Coalition is to achieve long term cultural change by engaging young volunteers to work with young people in universities, communities and schools and inspire them to act against climate change. A core component of the applicant's strategy is that of ensuring that the organisation is run by young people, who offer leadership and inspiration to other young people. It runs education and mentoring programmes in schools, national summits and non-partisan election campaigns. It meets regularly with government Ministers, members of Parliament, business leaders and other organisations.
- Its focus on youth involvement is key to attracting funding and therefore its ongoing viability.
- Previous exemptions have been granted to the applicant in similar terms. The current exemption expired on 4 July 2023. The circumstances and manner in which the applicant works have not altered in any way since the grant of that exemption.

- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to consider relevant human rights as set out in the Charter. Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of persons over thirty years who would wish to be employed by the applicant. I am satisfied that, in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct. This exemption will be published in the 13 March 2025 edition of the Gazette. It will remain in effect until 5 March 2030.

EXEMPTION

Application No. H43/2025

The Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal has considered an application pursuant to section 89 of the Equal Opportunity Act 2010 (the Act) by Women's Health Victoria (the applicant). The application for exemption is to enable the applicant to:

- advertise for and employ women only; and
- provide services to volunteers who are women only. (the exempt conduct).

Upon reading the material filed in support of this application, including the affidavit of Sally Hasler, the evidence she gave at the hearing on 4 March 2025 and having had regard to eight previous exemptions, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is appropriate to grant an exemption from sections 16, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

In granting this exemption, the Tribunal noted:

- The applicant is a state-wide women's health promotion, advocacy and support service run by women for women. It is one of the eight regional, and three state-wide services funded as part of Victoria's Women's Health Program.
- The applicant has a 30 year history of delivering vital support services to Victorian women providing health information, sharing evidence and recommendations, and building capacity in the health sector to achieve equitable health outcomes.

- The applicant delivers direct health services for women and girls, including Counterpart, a peer support service for women with cancer and 1800 My Options, an information phoneline providing information about contraception, pregnancy options and sexual health.
- The applicant has 35 employees who work across six areas: Business Operations, Advocacy and Communications, Counterpart, 1800 My Options, Evidence and Capacity Building and Office of the CEO. Through its Counterpart service, it engages 40 women volunteers. While the applicant will open recruitment to men in some parts of the organisation, it will continue to exclude men from employment and volunteer positions in the following positions 1800 My Options team members, Counterpart team members, the CEO and the Chairperson.
- The applicant trains volunteers to assist in the delivery of some services. To the extent that the delivery of training to volunteers amounts to a service within the meaning of the Act and because all volunteers will be female the exemption applies in the area of the services it delivers to volunteers.
- The most recent exemption expired on 27 November 2024. I am not satisfied that an exception applies to the exempt conduct, however I am satisfied that it is appropriate that an exemption be granted. In the absence of an exemption the exempt conduct would amount to prohibited discrimination.
- When making decisions about exemptions, the Tribunal is required to give proper consideration to relevant human rights as set out in the Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006 (Charter). Arguably, this exemption limits the right to equality and in particular the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination of men who wish to be employed by the applicant and/or participate as volunteers of the applicant. I am satisfied that in the circumstances discussed above, the limit imposed by this exemption is reasonable and justified under the Charter.

The Tribunal hereby grants an exemption from the operation of sections 16, 44, 107 and 182 of the Act to enable the applicant to engage in the exempt conduct.

This exemption will be published in the 13 March 2025 edition of the Gazette. It will remain in effect until 3 March 2030.
